PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

To the Editor Record and Guide:

Among the Brooklyn judgments in your last issue appears one against Michael O'Sullivan in favor of N. Ryan for $1,081.00. The judgment is the result of a suit on mechanic's lien filed against me a year and a half ago. To protect my credit at the time, I paid the entire amount of the lien, with interest, on December 16, 1897; there is nothing unpaid but the costs of the suit, and I intend to take an appeal from the judgment and set the matter right before my friends. The lien originally was a peculiarly cruel and unjust one, and was filed under the most distressing and exasperating circumstances. The judgment of the court compels me to pay Mr. Ryan, besides costs, for over $200 worth of material and services which I never received, and which he admitted on the witness stand he never furnished. He charges $9.00 per day for teams, when it was stipulated the price was to be $5.00; other items on a corresponding scale. I had paid him $700.00 on two weeks' credit, instead of thirty days, as agreed; when he put the lien on he gave me no credit for the amount of the lien; just ignored me and put the lien on without notice when he delivered the last of the goods. If ever there was an unjust lien filed against a poor, but honest, man the above was one, and I mean to fight it to the last resort.

M. O'SULLIVAN,
189 55th street, Brooklyn.

LIFE Hangs on a Rivet.

A rusted rivet may cause the destruction of a modern building, or a railroad bridge. Do you realize the necessity of keeping the iron free from rust? Linseed oil paint will not do it. Dried linseed oil is permeable to moisture. Paint may remain intact and rust go on beneath it. There is but one way to prevent rust. Coat the iron with a skin that will absolutely keep moisture out.

DURABLE METAL COATING

Is an elastic varnish, especially prepared for use on structural iron. It costs but little more than paint, and the building is safe. Pamphlet free for the asking.

Architectural and Ornamental Iron Work For Buildings.

Engineering Plants of Large Buildings.

The prime considerations in the mechanical equipment of the modern building are safety, reliability, simplicity, small space occupied, low first cost, and low expense of operation and maintenance. All these cannot, of course, be secured together, but good judgment must be used in selecting the apparatus which will best meet the requirements of the particular case. At a recent meeting of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Mr. William H. Bryan read a paper on modern practice in this field. He said:

In general it may be said that the number and size of units—boilers, engines, pumps, etc.—should be such that, with any one unit out of service for cleaning or repairs, the remaining units can handle the maximum service if called upon to do so. As the best machinery can safely stand overloads of from one-third to one-half for short periods, there should never be less than three units, each capable of doing from one-third to one-half the maximum work.

The ordinary tubular boiler is preferable where there is sufficient room, where extreme safety is not essential, and where first cost is of prime importance. Where space must be economized, however, and where extreme safety at high pressure is necessary, the water tube boiler will be found worth its increased cost. In economy of fuel, quick steaming and dryness of steam, neither type has any advantage over the other, assuming that both are intelligently designed and operated. The working steam pressure should be 90 to 100 lbs. if simple engines are to be used, and 125 lbs. if compounds are selected.

The chimney should be at least 100 feet high above the grates, and higher if necessary to bring its top well above adjacent buildings. In area it should equal the aggregate tube area of the boilers. For water tube boilers one-ninth the grate area may be used. It should preferably be circular in section, and lined with firebrick. The smoke flue leading to it should be at least of equal area, circular in section, and as short and direct as possible. Where bends are unavoidable, they should be of long radius. Good draft is of prime importance in securing the best results with the fuels ordinarily burned in St. Louis. Smokeless furnaces should always be adopted, for aesthetic and sanitary as well as economical reasons. There are many good devices of this character, such as the down-draft, the automatic stoker, and the firebrick arch.

The steam engines and large pumps should usually be of the compound type, where the steam is worked through two cylinders in series, thus giving an economy of 20 to 40 per cent. in the use of fuel over simple or single cylinder engines. The slow speed Corliss engine represents the highest economy, but is rarely available for buildings, on account of the space it requires, and the fact that it cannot be directly connected except to low speed, high-priced dynamos. Compound high-speed engines occupy much less space, are capable of direct connection, regulate better, and approach the single cylinder Corliss closely in economy. Where space is extremely valuable, high-speed engines of the vertical type may be successfully employed. There are now a number of satisfactory makes on the market at reasonable figures of cost. Very close regulation of speed is now possible without danger of racing, and should be required. The variation over all ordinary ranges of load and steam fluctuations may be kept within COVERING of shorts accounts wholly for the strength in prices seen in the last two days. Had stocks been plentiful enough, of course, the movement would have been the other way, but there was an appreciable lessening of the desire to sell on the part of holders, which did not fail of influencing the action of speculative shorts. Bond buying has also been resumed with considerable force, the most speculative issues coming in for much of the public favor in the absence of better ones on which to bestow their affections. It is not unlikely that stocks will follow the lead of bonds now that pressing liquidation seems to have been accomplished, but there is nothing in the situation to warrant the expectation of more than a temporary recovery, or to dispel the belief that the lowest prices of the season have not yet been attained. Money has become easier, the interregnum between two periods of heavy demand having been begun, and the condition of general business continues to be satisfactory. In the iron trade demand increases and prices advance. The probabilities for expansion in this line are not to be estimated because it is not known, but only vaguely surmised, how far the use of iron is spreading in all directions, particularly in structural lines. Abroad this fact is being ascertained as a result of experience and is having good effect on iron and coal shares, and here its influence must similarly prevail as the results of the growth of the business are shown in distributions to stockholders.

LATE advances in the prices of industrial shares in the New York market, phenomenal as they were, are being altogether outdone in the London mining market, where speculation in West Australians has been as rampant as it ever was in Kaffirs. One issue with the suggestive name of Golden Horseshoe, having a par value of £1 has sold at £45, against £5 10s. a few months previously. Some two shilling, or fifty-cent shares have sold at £1 10s., or $7.50, and there are a number of others that have also made large advances. London, Paris and Berlin have, too, all been buyers of Kaffirs on continued increases of output. The returns for the first four months of the year are of 1,695,169 ozs., or an increase of 422,336 ozs. on the production of the same period last year. Indeed, foreign markets are doing very little in anything besides these issues, though it is not altogether impossible that German industrials will take another upward turn. A halt was called to the speculation in these issues because of the stringency in the money market, but as that has been removed and the industrial movement upon which this speculation was based shows signs of increasing rather than decreasing in volume, it may be that the situation will call for further increases in quotable values. There appears to be no end in sight to the demand for iron for all purposes, or to the willingness of the consumer to stand increases in prices. Iron manufactures appear to be limited only by the ability of the blast furnace to turn out the pig, for which there is a continually increasing demand. Unprejudiced comment on the German meat inspection bill is to the effect that it is a measure of protection to the German farmer only, which will if passed inflict great hardships upon the working classes who are the largest consumers of American meats. Purchases and sales of rentes, through Treasury agents, indicate a very prosperous condition of affairs in France inasmuch as the former are increasing and the latter decreasing. The collection of indirect taxes, affords further evidence of the same fact in the amount collected being substantially above the estimates. Prices on the Vienna bourse have advanced moderately lately, a movement that has its importance chiefly through comparison with the stagnation that has been characteristic of that centre for so long. Government reports of the condition of the crops in Hungary are not satisfactory; wheat is doing fairly well, but other grains have suffered from unfavorable climatic conditions. The apparent shrinkage in the imports of Great Britain this year is due to their being stated pecuniarily; quantities are on the whole larger than they were last year. In wheat and flour, for instance, the quantities increased 1.7%, while their values declined 13.4%. The comparison is made with the period when the Leiter boom in wheat was being manipulated. There is no lessening of the demand, therefore, and with wheat prices advancing as they are likely to do from natural causes this time, the monetary equivalent will grow. It is somewhat remarkable that the increased output of gold is accompanied by a demand that absorbs all the supplies and keeps up the standard rates of discount in the European money centres at comparatively high figures. The fact that the Bank of England finds itself unable to increase its holdings and is in fact less successful than the continental banks in this respect, keeps lenders in a cautious mood. At the moment there is little or no need for anxiety, but looking ahead for a few months there is very little doubt that rates for money will be quite high under the heavy agricultural autumn demand; that is, high as compared with recent experience.

INCREASED MORTGAGES AND THEIR CAUSES.

LIKE all other current statistics pertaining to the real estate business, those relating to mortgages, show such a remarkable increase in the volume of business done that they excite interest and deserve special consideration. The value of the mortgages filed in each of the past four years has been considerably over $200,000,000, and in our last issue we showed that this year, up to that time, 7,834 mortgages had been filed, having a face value of $160,658,897, while similar figures for the same time last year were but 6,797, and $111,618,723, respectively. Four main reasons are given for these increases, namely: First, the increased borrowing that always accompanies activity in the realty market; second, the shifting of loans to take advantage of lowered interest rates; third, the borrowing of money on real estate to meet the demands for funds in other lines; fourth, the larger advances made on realty as confidence in its improved value increases. To these must be added a fifth cause as applying to the increased totals, the borrowings by corporations on bonds secured by mortgages in which plant and franchises are pledged as well as the real estate that may be owned by the issuing companies. In considering the justice of these deductions from the situation it is necessary to examine the figures themselves and to analyze them, separating the real estate mortgages proper from the corporate mortgages and striking averages for the purposes of comparison. This may be done by means of the following table in the presentation of which particular attention is called to the column of satisfaction pieces, which is now published for the first time and which is very necessary to a proper understanding of the subject we are now discussing:

	Mortgages on realty.			Satisfaction	Corporate mortgages.
Year.	No.	Amount.	Average.	pieces. No.	No.	Amount.
1892.....	14,448	$187,378,572	$12,969	11,699	2	$6,500,000
1893.....	13,730	172,318,638	12,550	10,908	1	12,500,000
1894.....	13,652	157,771,149	11,557	11,605	2	6,500,000
1895.....	15,090	200,216,741	13,330	12,979	1	15,000,000
1896.....	15,057	217,210,593	14,426	11,173	..	.....

1898.....	15,852	208,114,596	13,122	12,705	2	36,000,000
1899 (to May 23).	8,107	124,658,897	15,993	6,781	2	18,000,000

No one who has followed the course of the realty market for any length of time will refuse to admit that increased borrowing accompanies activity there. A lively market depends on a large speculative movement for its existence and as speculation in land means to a very large extent building, borrowing also follows as a matter of course in order that improvements may be made and the speculative movement carried to its legitimate conclusion. It is not, therefore, necessary to dwell further upon that point; the weekly records prove quite clearly that of late borrowing for improvements have swelled the totals of mortgages filed to a considerable extent. It is natural to suppose with lowered interest rates that, wherever possible, loans have been shifted to take advantage of them; this view is not only supported by natural inference, but also by the more convincing figures, showing the increases in the number of mortgages filed since 1894, when the accummulations of capital first began to force down interest rates, and the corresponding increase in the number of satisfaction pieces entered for record in the Register's office. It should be stated that the figures last referred to, include satisfactions of chattel mortgages; but, as these are probably not more than one per cent of the total and as two per cent would certainly more than cover them, the value of the figures for our purpose is in nowise vitiated by that fact. Without these figures it would not have been possible to so clearly show that the shifting of loans had had considerable proportions.

As to the drawing upon real estate for means to enlarge the trade and commerce of the community, that is a point not so easily demonstrated as the others, but we have it from the best of sources that it has been and is being done. It is moreover an inference we drew in a previous issue, when commenting upon the distribution over the city of the mortgages for the first quarter of the year, from the fact that large amounts of money were raised on mortgages on property in downtown sections out of all proportion to the building movements going on in them. That individuals are now borrowing more on their holdings than before, we find to be the case from inquiries made among mortgage brokers and also from the analysis of the mortgage figures given above. By reference to the table it will be seen that in 1895 there was quite a jump in the average loan from any of the preceding three years; that there was a further advance in 1896; and that, while 1897 and 1898 showed declines, this year has made the highest average record. For these advances in the average there are two good reasons, the improvement in values of the property pledged and the greater confidence of loaners in the permanence of values, the economic explanations of which have been too recently given to require repetition at this moment.

So far, we have confined ourselves to discussing realty loans pure and simple, for which purpose they were separated in our table. The result cannot fail to be entirely satisfactory to realty interests, inasmuch as the facts and figures given disclose a growing appreciation of the security and increasing value of New York realty as a whole. The other borrowings, which for distinction we class as corporate mortgages, do not interest us quite so closely, but the fact that they are increasing is a very imporant one. Most of what, in the aggregate, is an immense total of bonds was issued for improvements to our lighting and transit systems. This reveals a very encouraging growth in the material development of the city, and it is under material development that realty values appreciate.

THE prompt manner in which the special session of the Legislature passed the amended Ford Franchise tax bill is as much a matter for satisfaction in realty circles as the passage of the bill itself. The document issued by the Real Estate Board of Brokers, which we publish in another column, expresses the views of those circles, and, while its direct purpose has been gained without the petition it asks for, the explanation it contains of the theory underlying the taxation of franchises is interesting and valuable and is, therefore, placed before our readers. The Legislature was evidently convinced that public opinion called for this enactment, and that fact strengthens the view presented here last week that, whatever the fate of this particular measure may be under judicial scrutiny, the justice of taxing franchises is established as a principle, which must be enforced, if not now, at a comparatively early day. The measure of relief this will afford to those classes of property that have now to bear all the pecuniary burdens of state and municipality must be large, though it is too early to attempt an estimate of its precise extent. At the present time the assessed value of the property of corporations in the streets of Manhattan, such as railway structures, pipes, poles, wires, subways, etc., is assessed at $53,535,050, on which amount the same rate is paid as on the assessed values of lands and buildings. In addition to this the corporations pay taxes on their lands and buildings the same as other owners of similar properties. Consequently, their annual contribution to the municipal income is already quite large. For the very valuable privileges they enjoy they, however, pay very little. In 1894, the surface car companies paid into the city treasury for license fees and percentages less than a quarter of a million of dollars, and last year the municipal income from the same source amounted to about half a million dollars only. It will require a very careful examination of the act just passed and of the circumstances of each of the corporations operating in this city before any estimate can be made of what further demand can be made upon them under the recently created power to tax. their privilege to do business, but it will undoubtedly be large enough to afford substantial relief to lands and buildings.

LIKE the old woman's pig in the nursery rhymes, the Board of Aldermen "wont go." Whether the board want winding up or another application of the stick that last winter made them pass the budget and approve the nominations to the Commission on New Building Code does not appear, but it is certain that this obstinacy delays everything that is needed. This is particularly annoying and unfortunate at a time when so much is needed. This week a deputation from the West Side Taxpayers' Association waited upon the Mayor to request his assistance in getting Tenth avenue, between 14th and Gansevoort streets, lighted electrically and paved with asphalt, two improvements very necessary to that thoroughfare, but all His Honor could do was to tell them that the necessary funds had been voted by the Board of Estimate, but the matter was hung up in the Board of Aldermen. In likewise owners of property on New Elm street, who prayed the Board of Public Improvements to complete the work of grading and paving that thoroughfare, have been told that the Board of Aldermen would not pass the necessary resolution. Probably the petitioners to the Municipal Assembly who want Broadway, from 14th to 42d street, paved with asphalt will find that the Board of Aldermen stand in the way. How long is this sort of thing to go on, and what particular form of reasoning can have induced the Board to adopt, of all policies in the world, the policy of the pig mentioned in the opening line of this paragraph?

THE Massachusetts legislature, in 1897, passed an act which allowed a special assessment on real estate for the maintenance of the sewerage system of the city of Boston, as well as for the construction, the charge for the latter having long been in vogue. It was enacted at the request of the mayor of the city and was built up on a much less comprehensive bill in such a manner as to escape the attention of real estate owners. The object was to increase revenues without raising the tax rate. The system was put into operation in 1898, the charges appearing as separate items on the tax bills. Immediately a great hue and cry was raised and many taxpayers paid under protest, at the same time filing suits against the city on the ground that the law was unconstitutional. Mr. J. Montgomery Sears, the largest individual taxpayer in Boston, pushed his suit in the supreme court and a decision has just been handed down declaring the law unconstitutional and void. The court, in its opinion, written by Judge Knowlton, holds the statute is unconstitutional, for substantially the following reasons: First, because the assessment fixed by the act cannot stand as a general tax, for the reason that it is not proportional and equal; second, because the assessment fixed by the act cannot stand as a special or local tax upon real estate alone, for the reason that it purports to give the street commissioners power to levy special assessments on such property upon other grounds than the receipt of special benefits to real estate, and to amounts beyond the amount, if any, of the special benefit conferred, and for expenditures which, as against such property, are not properly subjects for special taxation. While this suit was pending, the Real Estate Exchange was roused to action to secure a repeal of the law. The largest owners of the city rallied to its support, to the number of a hundred new members, and the bill is now nearly through the legislature. This experience has taught the real estate interests of the city a lesson and the exchange, strengthened by its new and powerful membership, has carefully scanned all legislation at the state house and has exerted much influence in protecting real estate from unwise and ill-considered legislation and in opposing extravagance, especially in the direction of increased indebtedness.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, May 25.—The Legislature in special session passed the Ford Franchise Tax Act, as amended to meet the wishes of the Governor. One of the amendments requires the State Tax Commissioners "to annually fix and determine the valuation of each special franchise subject to assessment in each city, town, village or town district."

The Legislature did not consider the subject of Rapid Transit for New York, for it was doubted if there were sufficient votes to pass such a bill; and it was feared Mayor Van Wyck would once more veto it if the same bill was again passed.

The bills of local interest in New York signed the past week by Governor Roosevelt are given below, with their chapter and last printed number:

Chapter 622 (Printed No. Assembly 2326), which was introduced by Mr. Doughty, of Queens county, amending Chapter 568 of the Laws of 1890, known as the Highway Law, in relation to abandoned highways and public rights of way, by declaring that "every public right of way that shall not have been used" as a highway for a period of six years "shall be deemed abandoned as a right of way." The act further says the commissioners of highways shall file in the town clerk's office a written description of each highway "and public right of way" so abandoned.

Chapter 635 (Assembly Printed 2404, introduced by Mr. Gale) amends Section 1 of Chapter 564 of the Laws of 1898, by providing that unpaid water rates or rents unpaid in Long Island City and the towns of Flushing, Jamaica and that portion of Hempstead within New York city territory, "may be paid and discharged of record at any time before the 30th day of September, 1900, with interest thereon at the rate of 2 per centum per annum."

Chapter 637 (Assembly Printed 1264, introduced by Dr. Henry, of New York), authorizing New York and Buffalo to establish outside of their limits "a hospital for the regular treatment of the disease known as pulmonary tuberculosis." The State Board of Health must approve of the site selected for this Hospital for Consumptives.

Mayor Van Wyck returned without his approval the following bills, which are, therefore, dead:

Assemblyman Phillips's, to lay out and establish a public park in the Twentieth Ward of the Borough of Manhattan of the City of New York, to be known as Hamilton Park, and for the improvement thereof.

Assemblyman Gale's, extending until next September the time for paying taxes levied before Jan. 1, 1898, in that part of the City of New York constituting the city of Long Island City and the towns of Flushing, Jamaica and a part of the town of Hempstead.

Senator Elsberg's, cancelling taxes and assessments on land required for St. Nicholas Park, and providing for the payment of interest on damage awards.

Senator Grady's, providing that where a property owner in New York city refuses to remove ice and snow from the sidewalk the city authorities may do so at the expense of the property owner.

Senator Elsberg's, providing that the State Inspector of Meters, instead of the New York Commissioner of Buildings, Lighting and Supplies, shall have supervision of the inspection of gas meters in New York city.

Assemblyman Gale's, providing for the payment of amounts due on certain old Long Island City school contracts.

Assemblyman Doughty's, amending the law of last year regarding the depth that a municipality shall keep in a tidewater stream from which water has been diverted for municipal purposes.

Senator Mitchell's, providing that New York city should bear the expense of establishing a public place in the Twenty-fourth Ward, New York city, near Tremont and Burnside avenues.

Albany, N. Y., May 26.—Governor Roosevelt to-day signed the new franchise tax act.

THE FORD FRANCHISE BILL.

The Board of Governors of the Real Estate Board of Brokers met on Tuesday last and adopted the following address on the Ford Franchise tax bill to the owners of real estate and rent-payers of the City of New York:

The Governor of the State has called the Legislature to meet in extraordinary session, to devise and enact amendments or legislation supplementary to the definition of real estate, as amended by Senator Ford.

We believe that the people are aware of the great benefits which will accrue to this city by reason of the taxation of franchises, but we wish to call their attention at this time to the importance of making a united effort to strengthen the hands of the Governor, and to insist that the Legislature shall take no action to deprive the people of the advantages gained by the Ford bill.

It is hardly necessary to point out the vital interest real estate owners have in this measure, as it means to them a reduction of their taxes of at least twenty per cent. The rent-payers, who include the entire population of the city are equally interested in this measure.

We believe that the Ford bill should be signed by the Governor, whether supplementary legislation shall be enacted or not, in order that the definition of real estate in the Tax Law shall conform to the law of real property and to the decisions of the courts. In the case of Ghee vs. Northern Union Gas Company, 158 N. Y. 510, the Court of Appeals expressly states that a public franchise gives to "The corporation receiving it a perpetual and indefeasible interest in the land." And, again, that such a franchise conveys "A perpetual and indefeasible interest in the land constituting the street."

No supplementary legislation should provide for the assessment of the franchise separately from the assessment of the tangible real property. This is not necessary, and complicates the work of assessors.

Franchises have been assessed and taxed in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and other States for many years, and there are decisions of the United States Supreme Court in which rules for the valuing of franchises have been approved, which are so clear and simple that the possibility of such errors as are constantly made in valuing ordinary real estate are impossible, whether the assessment is made by local officials or by a State Board. In the State Railroad Tax cases, 92 U. S. 604, the Supreme Court says, "it is therefore obvious, that, when you have ascertained the value of the whole funded debt, and the value of the entire number of shares, you have, by the action of those who, above all others, can best estimate it, ascertained the true value of the road, all its property, its capital stock and its franchises; for these are all represented by the value of its bonded debt and of the shares of its capital stock." To obtain the value of the real estate, it is only necessary to deduct the value of the personal property of the corporation. There is no difficulty in ascertaining this value, for this personal property is simple in character and the reports of the company must show its value with approximate correctness.

The Supreme Court has also upheld rules for apportioning the value of a franchise where the property of the company lies within several tax districts. Whether the assessment is made by local assessors, or by a State Board, the present State Board of Tax Commissioners has authority under existing law to frame rules for the guidance of the assessing officers. As we have said, there is ample precedent to guide the State Board of Tax Commissioners in framing rules which have already been upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States.

In order that taxation may be simplified, we see no objection to the passage of a supplementary bill providing that where corporations pay taxes on their franchises under existing law, the new tax which they will be required to pay shall be reduced by this amount. At the same time they cannot claim this exemption as a matter of right any more than the owner of a house and lot could claim exemption from taxation because he has paid once the value of his property. Moreover, this annual payment reduces the value of the franchise, and so reduces its value for purposes of taxation.

We unhesitatingly call upon the Governor to sign the Ford bill as it is, without regard to the fate of any supplementary legislation, and we urge all others to join us in this appeal.

ELM STREET.

John F. Doyle, President of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, has addressed the following letter to the Board of Aldermen, and it is to be hoped that this statement of the facts will induce the board to pass the resolution which will allow the community to realize on the large investment made in widening Elm street, and which now is so utterly unprofitable to the public, besides being a direct loss to property owners and business men along its line:

Understanding that the matter of the completion of the paving and grading of Elm street, for so long a time delayed, is to come up for the consideration of your honorable Board on Wednesday, May 31st, the Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York respectfully urge that you take immediate favorable action in this matter, so that the necessary work may be carried to completion without delay.

The members of this Board, representing the ownership of a large part of the property directly affected, have an intimate knowledge of the serious loss to the owners, that this delay of over a year in finishing the paving and grading of Elm street, has caused, which burden has been the harder to bear because the taxes have been levied as usual, and the income from these properties, with which they have been paid, has in most cases been utterly wiped out.

We, therefore, feel that we cannot too strongly urge upon your honorable Board the need of at once adopting active measures to render the Elm street properties useful for business purposes, and capable of returns to the owners, the income of which the condition of the street has for so long a time deprived them.

THE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE REGISTER'S OFFICE.

The description of the improvements made in the Register's office, published in our issue of December 24 last, has attracted wide attention throughout the United States. Mr. Isaac Fromme, the author of these improvements, has, as a consequence of its publication, received many inquiries for further information from officials in other parts of the country, one coming even from as far as Hawaii. The article was also used at Albany this year to advantage in defeating a bill which was intended to prevent an active practitioner from holding the office of Register. Nothing could better demonstrate the value of a practical man in such a department, than the greater ease and expedition with which papers are now received, recorded and returned, compared with what was the case prior to Mr. Fromme's administration of the Register's office; or the service rendered by the Record and Guide in disseminating useful information than the attention that the article describing the change has obtained.

*Includes a mortgage to the Long Island R. R. Co. for $45,000,000 to secure bonds.

A seasonably normal business was noted in the brokerage branch of the real estate market this week. Indeed, the budget is somewhat less devoid of elements of popular interest than in the recent past. The 6-story store, No. 557 and 559 Broadway, near Prince, was bought by John S. Hawley. The property was sold in partition—Eugene Lentilhon against Joseph de T. Lentilhon—on March 22 to the Union Trust Co., representing a party in interest, for $303,500. The price in the present transaction is withheld. Sixteen lots in 5th avenue, being the block front between 104th and 105th streets, were purchased by D. O. Mills. The block below was bought by William R. Travers and W. Lanman Bull. A plot of four lots, 25 ft. north of 94th street, was also sold. In Central Park West two plots were sold, one comprising four lots on the north corner of 90th street, the other containing two lots farther north in the same block. A Jewish congregation bought a site at 103 to 111 East 7th street, on which to erect a synagogue. With the exception of a 6-story mercantile building on the northeast corner of Water street and Cuylers alley, and some flats and dwellings, the remaining sales were chiefly of speculative properties intended for improvement, as, for example, the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 99th street, on which two 7-story apartment houses will be erected, and Nos. 50 and 52 West 45th street, which will become the site of a bachelor apartment house. The total number of transactions reported below is 51, with considerations given in five, and amounting to $698,000. Corresponding figures for last week were 53, 11 and $566,750 respectively, and for the same week last year, 40, 16 and $832,300, respectively.

Vacant lots occupied a prominent place in the list of offerings at auction this week. Much of the land put up was bid in or withdrawn. At the same time, none of the unimproved property offered was situated in active localities. Bryan L. Kennelly sold 37 of the 55 lots at Pelham Manor Park, and 6 of the 15 plots at Yonkers, the sales realizing $26,175 and 11,150, respectively. Of the 157 lots at Williamsbridge offered by William Kennelly, only four were sold. On the other hand, offerings by James L. Wells, Charles A. Berrian and Adrian H. Muller & Son found takers, as also the 100 lots at Central Bridge, put up by Peter F. Meyer for Maximilian Morganthau and associates. The prices obtained, though thought by some to be low, were probably all that could be expected, in view of the fact that much of the property contains about 25 feet of rock. Max Marx, who bought freely, said that he acted for himself, and that title would be taken in his name; and added that he knew very well that he could not turn this property over immediately, but that, at the prices he paid, he could not help realizing a good profit in a few years. None of the sales of improved property call for special comment. The lot sales already advertised comprise some of more than common interest, and insure a busy market down to the Fourth of July. Among sales of importance which have not yet been advertised are three by William M. Ryan, one for the Acker estate at Yonkers, another of 90 acres north of the city line, and still another of 174 lots at Lowerre Station.

William M. Ryan is receiving numerous requests for the book-maps of the Cammann and Tilden estates sales announced by him in our business pages. Of the excellence of these book-maps themselves, mention is made in our column of notes below. The Cammann estate offerings comprise 250 University Heights lots, which will be sold June 6, under a partition order of the Supreme Court. These lots are located on Fordham Heights road, Andrews, Sedgwick and Cedar avenues, Loring and Cammann place, Harlem River terrace, and East 184th street, on high ground, adjoining the University of the City of New York. The development of this section has taken the form of high-class residences, for which these lots are eminently fitted. Trolleys and the Harlem Railroad afford excellent transit facilities. Titles will be guaranteed to purchasers free of cost by the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. On the following day, June 7, Mr. Ryan will offer the country seat of the late Samuel J. Tilden, known as "Graystone," which follows the Gramercy Park house, recently sold by the same auctioneer, into the market under proceedings commenced by the New York Public Library to realize the benefits it is entitled to under Mr. Tilden's will and the legislation consolidating the Astor, Lenox and Tilden foundations. "Graystone" is one of the most beautiful and accessible spots on the Hudson near this city. It will be sold in two parcels, one of 36 acres, and the mansion from which the place takes its name, together with stable, hot-houses and other buildings; and one of 55½ acres. The boundaries of these parcels will be found in the announcement of the sale, together with suggestions of possible future use. The sale will take place in front of the Manor Hall, Yonkers, on the day previously named at noon. Permits, illustrated maps and further particulars are to be obtained at the office of the auctioneer in the Singer Building, No. 149 Broadway.

Bryan L. Kennelly makes a number of interesting auction announcements for Wednesday and Thursday of the coming week on another page of this issue, to which the attention of readers is directed, as they afford a good range for investment and speculative purchases. The approach of the summer season was strongly evidenced during the past week. Real estate transactions were few in number and of small consequence. This condition of affairs is usually to be expected at this season of the year. From the strong market, however, which was continued after the first of the month, it was hoped that realty would remain active until well into the warm weather. Brokers have had a good spring season, and if business drops off now there will be few complaints. Those of a bullish tendency, however, predict an improved market before the first of July, with more than the usual activity during the summer months.

In the auction rooms the sale of the Tilden estate property at Greenpoint, on Wednesday, under the direction of W. P. Rae, was the only eventful one of the week. The sale attracted a good crowd, and the bidding was brisk. The prices realized were unexpectedly high for vacant lot property in this section of the city. At the auction sales of lots earlier in the month, prices obtained were discouragingly low, even when the terms of sale were most favorable. One reason advanced for the high prices paid for the Tilden property is that many of the bidders were interested parties. The lot on the southwest corner of Kent street and Oakland street, with a frontage of 25 feet on Kent and 100 on Oakland, brought $2,000. Kent street is paved with asphalt, and Oakland street is graded and paved. For the gore on the southeast corner of Greenpoint avenue and Oakland street, $2,025 was paid. This lot fronts 38.6 on Greenpoint avenue, through which the electric car line runs, and 103 feet on Oakland street, with a rear width of 9.10. The prices obtained for the several parcels will be found in another column. On Saturday last, under the direction of Jas. L. Brumley, an auction sale of lots in the 32d Ward was held on the property. Of the 661 lots advertised, but a small proportion were sold, owing to the low prices which were being offered.

Property in the vicinity of Newtown Creek was brought to the attention of real estate men during the week by the announcement that a large tract belonging to the Furman estate had been purchased by Reon Barnes, of Manhattan. The tract consists of about 128 acres located at Maspeth, L. I. It is bounded by Newtown Creek, Grand st., Maspeth and Flushing avenues, and is considered the most valuable holding in this section of the city. The price paid for this property was not disclosed although it is reported to be about a million and a half dollars. It is rumored that the sale was made in the interest of the Long Island Railroad Co., and that the company will erect a large terminal at this point. It is also said that the company will build water and coal sheds there. This transaction was effected through Charles G. Moller of Manhattan. Among the operators in this section is Cord Meyer, who recently purchased some six acres of the Furman estate.

The formal issuance of a permit for the erection of the new office building at the northwest corner of Joralemon and Court streets was made during the week. The plans as filed correspond to those as originally announced, the building to cost $500,000. David G. Leggett, the owner, has recently acquired the house adjoining on Joralemon street, so as to insure full protection in the matter of light and air to his office building. Work on the cellar excavations will probably be started next week, as the old structure is now completely razed to the ground.

The Brooklyn League has decided to remove from its present quarters at No. 200 Joralemon st. The League has leased a suite of offices on the second floor of the Real Estate Exchange Building, No. 189 Montague st.

On Wednesday of next week there will be a sale at Borough Hall for arrears in taxes for the year 1895 and prior years. This sale has been adjourned several times since the original date for the sale last December. It was stated at the tax department that a further adjournment may be granted, provided property owners show a disposition to make settlements.

The Title Guarantee and Trust Company has begun work on the extension which it will erect in the rear of No. 169 Remsen street, the house recently purchased by the company. The completion of this structure will give the company more space for its business departments on the ground floor.

The new alphabetical indices to the Kings County Surrogate's records have just been finished, and can now be used by the public. To Brooklyn real estate lawyers, the change from the old system will not only save time, but insure greater accuracy in the search of the records.

The improved Long Island train service began its operation this week, cars now running from the bridge, over the incline at Atlantic avenue to Jamaica. Offices have also been established on both the Manhattan and Brooklyn sides of the bridge for the Long Island Railroad passengers. A three-cent additional charge will be made for the trip from the bridge to the Flatbush avenue station. To commuters, however, a fifty-trip ticket will be issued for $1.50, which will entitle the purchaser to the trip across the bridge as well. The new system is expected to greatly increase the traffic on the island.

It has been suggested that some of the principal Brooklyn streets which bear the same names as those in Manhattan should be changed so as to avoid confusion. The following are some of the chief changes advocated: Broadway to Williamsburgh avenue, Fulton street to Brooklyn avenue, and Grand street to Newtown avenue.

Wm. H. Vass & Co. have recently opened a real estate office at 183 Montague st.

Winnett; buyer, Thomas Rosecrans; in exchange for No. 293 7th av, for 4-sty brownstone front apartment house containing store. Broker, Thomas Rosecrans. In this transaction the President st. house was rated at $6,000 and the apartment house at $12,000.

West Babylon.—Raymond farm, situated on Great East Neck road, consisting of thirty-five acres, has been sold by Dr. Alden J. Woodruff to C. F. Anderson, of Brooklyn.

Jamaica, L. I.—The De Bevoise farm of thirty-three acres has been sold to Henry A. Van Allen, William L. Wood, and J. Alvin Wood. The consideration was stated at $23,500.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

Harlan P. Young was the broker in the sale of the north corner of Riverside Drive and 94th st, reported in our last issue.

According to the conveyance, recorded this week, the price paid by Hallgarten & Co. for Nos. 26 and 28 Broad st was $500,000, the sum given in our account of the transaction. Current report at the time put the price at $800,000.

On Thursday, June 8, at 2 p. m., the Council Committee on Railroads will give a hearing at the City Hall on the question of the abandonment of the Union Railway track on Willis avenue.

J. W. Farrington, of No. 311 Columbus avenue, near 66th street "L" station, makes a specialty of the management of estates, and his success in this line has led to a largely increased clientele.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment this week authorized the issue of bonds in amounts and for purposes as follows: Acquiring land for Riverside Park, $207,000; acquiring land for park between 111th and 114th streets, 1st avenue and East River, $265,250.

Broker R. M. Fulton has removed his offices from No. 503 5th avenue to No. 100 Broadway, corner of Pine street, where with increased facilities he will continue a general real estate and mortgage loan business. Mr. Fulton's telephone call is 1834 Cortlandt.

George Ranger, who for five years has been connected with the real estate interests of Jefferson M. and L. Napoleon Levy, has gone into the brokerage and mortgage loan business, with an accessible office at No. 237 West 125th street. Mr. Ranger's long residence in that section and his extensive acquaintance with owners and knowledge of values are factors that are likely to secure success. His telephone call is 545 Harlem.

Condemnation proceedings were begun by Assistant U. S. District Attorney, D. Frank Lloyd, yesterday against the owner of No. 25 State street, No. 26 State street, and No. 1 Bowling Green row, which form part of the proposed Bowling Green Custom House site. According to Collector Bidwell, if the old Wall street site is not sooner sold, a call for proposals on the property will be issued on June 1. If the invitation for bids does not result in a sale, the property may possibly be put up at auction, although this alternative has not, so far as known, been considered by the Treasury Department.

The 5th avenue end of Park & Tilford's 21st street store has been demolished to make way for a twelve-story structure which will harmonize and connect with the building adjoining on 5th avenue. Messrs. Ogden & Clarkson, agents for the new building, have already rented the corner store and basement to C. P. Rogers, of 6th avenue, and two lofts to other tenants. H. Edwards Ficken is the architect, and George Vassar's Son & Co. contractors for the new structure, which will be ready next January.

The auction book-map has rapidly undergone improvement, until, in the hands of the well-known auctioneer, William M. Ryan, it has become a work of art. The books now being circulated by him relating to the sale of "Graystone," the beautiful country seat of Samuel J. Tilden, and to the Cammann estate lots on University Heights, are marvels of artistic covering, printing and illustration. Each contains a number of excellent pictures, which are not only good in themselves, but also give as clear a representation of the properties to be sold, their surroundings, and the character of nearby improvements, as could be obtained by a personal visit. Mr. Ryan has also placed over his stand a large frame full of large photographs of scenes and buildings on University Heights, so that bidders at the sale on June 6 will have before their eyes an actual presentation of the kind of property offered to them.

The Building Trades

NEW JERSEY NEW YORK LONG ISLAND

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—Brick prices hold well, and the good demand will probably maintain them for some time to come. Buyers are eager to obtain brick, and the advance seems to have had no effect on demand. Prices are 6.00@6.50 for both Jersey and North Rivers. Arrivals up to Thursday night were 51 barges.

LIME.—Despite the strong demand, shipments continue light. Arrivals are cleared up with alacrity. A continual advance in the price of casks is cutting the profit on lime. Casks are difficult to obtain at any price, and this cause threatens to curtail shipments. Prices for Rockland are firm, and the demand for State and Jointa is vigorous. Rockland common brings 80@90c., and finishing 90@95c. per bbl. State is 70@75c., and Jointa 90c. per bbl.

CEMENT.—Trade is as brisk as ever, and dealers are turning away orders. All cement is taken upon arrival and finds immediate use. The manner in which cement and other building material is shipped almost from the factory to the spot used, is a noteworthy circumstance, indicating the great demand in all lines. To the community this is a great saving, as storing increases the cost to the consumer. Rosendale is 80@95c. per bbl., Portland $2.00@$2.10 per bbl.

LATH.—Arrivals of spruce slab this week amounted to about 6,000,000—a distinct increase over last week. Canadian lath has begun to arrive in some quantity, taking the edge off prices. Spruce slab brings $2.35@$2.40.

LUMBER.—The trend of prices is still upward, and increased strength is shown in the requirement of immediate payment, where six months ago 90 days would have been allowed. All quotations of prices are misleading, as dealers have long ago given up all attempt to adhere to any price schedule, but shift prices to meet the conditions of this extraordinary market. The scarcity of hardwoods is as pronounced as a month ago, if not more so. The supply of ash is practically gone, and of walnut the inferior grades alone are to be found. Great interest is manifested in the present market conditions, and dealers are looking forward to a continuation of the activity, even during what is ordinarily the dull season of the year. Lumber interests have kept abreast of the times in the matter of combination; but with lumbermen this has taken more the form of organization into societies to make possible a comprehensive knowledge of the trade tendencies and needs. There is a distinct aversion to forming combinations to raise prices, but there is a strong desire to prevent that feeling of distrust in the market which leads to the cutting of quotations.

NAILS.—Cut nails have advanced in price, but a further advance for both cut and wire nails may be looked for, owing to the recent advance in steel billets. Steel men are expecting billets to go $1.00 or higher before a stationary price is reached; so that nails will probably advance considerably. Wire nails are $2.20 for carload lots f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; $2.45@$2.50 small lots, mill shipments; $2.60 for small lots out of store; cut nails $1.85 for carload lots, jobbers, f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; less than carload lots, $1.90; to others than jobbers, $1.90@$2.05.

GLASS.—The American Window Glass Association has advanced rates to jobbers as follows: For car lots f. o. b. New York, 85% off; less than car lots, 80 and 20% off. Further advances are looked for, as foreign prices are so high as to exclude importation. French is 80 and 10% off; plate, 80% off.

NAVAL STORES.—The market for spirits is quiet, but firmer in tone than last week; 42c. is asked for machines, and 41½c. for Southerns. Tar is firm at $2.00@$2.10 for regulars, and $3.60@$3.65 for oil barrels. Pitch remains $1.70 per bbl.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS.—Tar, $4.50@5.00 per bbl. of 50 gallons; pitch, $2.24@2.50 per cement bbl.; tarred roofing felt, $35.00@40.00 per ton. These prices are f. o. b. New York, to jobbers only.

OIL.—Linseed has fallen off in price to 43c. per gallon for 5-bbl. lots, and 44c. per gallon for less than 5-bbl. lots, with an advance of 2c. per gallon for boiled. Calcutta is 58c. per gallon.

LEAD.—There is no change from prices last quoted by the National Lead Company.

The Manhattan Brass Company has received a contract for supplying the brass work to a large commercial building now being erected by a syndicate in the city of Mexico. The work will be manufactured at their works here, and representatives of the company will erect it in the city of Mexico.

The American Luxfer Prism Co., with New York offices in the Mohawk Building, No. 160 5th av, have just secured an order from N. Le Brun & Sons, architects, for the installation of sixty-four windows in the Home Life Building. These windows are to be equipped with Luxfer Fireproof Electro-glazed Plate Glass, and will be installed in fireproof window frames.

The Granite Cutters' Association this week obtained a mandamus from Justice Scott of the Supreme Court to compel the East River Bridge Commission to inquire into their complaint that less than prevailing rates for wages in the granite trade were being paid workers on the new East River Bridge. The Court held, however, further, that after investigating, action on the contract was optional with the Commission.

The Alignum Company, successors to the Wheeler Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of fireproof and sanitary material for wainscoting halls and vestibules and for ceilings, flooring, doors, trim, tiling, bathrooms, etc., have removed to the commodious factory, Nos. 330 to 334 East 98th street, where they occupy the entire building, which has been fitted to admirably serve the business of the company. The increasing demand for their material necessitated their removal.

At a meeting of the American Brick Company yesterday, the following officers and directors were elected: Oakleigh Thorne, President; Robert Main, Vice-President; Edwin Thorne, Treasurer. Board of Directors: Samuel Thorne, Grant B. Schley, D. S. Lamont, Edwin Thorne; R. Somers Hayes, Aaron E. Aldridge, Oakleigh Thorne, Robert Maine. At a meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday, Commissioner Livingstone offered a resolution to refer to the Corporation Counsel the question whether the Board has a right to demand the unexpended bonds of the issues of previous years for building purposes. It has been held that the charter abrogated these issues, but Mr. Livingstone maintains that it did not, and that there is due the Board of Education more than $8,000,000. The resolution was referred to the Committee on By-Laws, with power to act.

Christianson Bros., long established and reliable manufacturers of window shades, have removed their office and factory from Nos. 132 and 134 East 125th street to larger and better-equipped quarters at Nos. 107 and 109 West 125th street, between Lenox and 7th avenues. At the new address they will welcome old customers and solicit the patronage of builders and owners who require anything in the window shade line. The firm supply very many of the most active and successful builders, and make it a feature to promptly and satisfactorily fill all orders.

Interior plans for the Hall of Records, presented to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment on Wednesday, call for an estimated expenditure of $2,500,000, according to Engineer McLean, who is quoted as having said that all the lighting would be done by electricity, and no wood would be used except the doors and trimmings. The rooms would be in mosiac work, and the halls in marble. Several varieties of marble would be used, but for the greater part of the work the white and dark green marble from Lake Champlain would be utilized. On the first floor the prevailing stone would be the light green Connemara, while on the second Pavonazza would be greatly used.

The fireproof qualities of steel ceilings were demonstrated in the recent fire at Nos. 507-509 West Broadway, a large 8-story building put up last year and ceiled on all the floors with Northrop's steel ceiling. The fire was most severe in the fourth floor, burning out or greatly damaging the stock of clothing and supplies for its manufacture, the fixtures, etc. The fire did not get through the ceiling at all, or open any joints, or pull any nails. The plates most exposed were considerably warped and the paint on them burnt or smoked, but nothing ignited above them. Although tons of water were thrown in, and much of it ran through the floors and ceilings, the ceilings below do not show a trace of it, and only the burnt ceilings need some slight repairs and new paint. Ceilings of any other material would have been ruined.

The several disastrous fires of the past few months have led to a largely increased demand for Kalameined iron-clad wood work, a material which has long been popular with the leading architects and builders for use as fireproof doors, windows, sash and partitions. Fitting & Gleckner, proprietors of the Columbia Kalameined Iron-Clad Wood Works, of Nos. 543 to 549 East 116th street, experienced and successful workers in this line, have recently supplied Kalameined iron partitions and doors on the 18th floor of the Washington Life Building, which has been divided into many rooms; also partitions and windows on the 12th floor of the Postal Telegraph Building in the terminal room; also doors for the new buildings, No. 296 Broadway, No. 243 Canal street and No. 87 Maiden lane, all for the Lorillard estate, M. H. Berry, contractor; Jordan & Giller, architects; the De Hirsch Home on East 63d street, G. F. Taussig, contractor; the Jones Building, corner of Elm and Duane streets; the Sailors' Snug Harbor new building on University place; numerous orders from the Mela Fireproof Partition Co. and a second order for doors for Sherry's 5th avenue establishment. Kalameined iron is especially adapted for use in private houses, and has been used in the windows and doors of the new Jennings mansion, No. 2 East 72d street, Ernest Flagg, architect; Sloane & Moller, contractors; and for the dwelling, No. 14 East 77th street, Richard Deeves & Son, contractors. Fitting & Gleckner will gladly furnish estimates of cost and other particulars to interested persons.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

Have you taken space in the new Illustrated Building Laws? Standard publication for Architects, Engineers, Builders, Contractors, Material Dealers, Real Estate Owners. An office tool, in constant and permanent use. A card in it will enable you to talk every day to your customers and to possible customers. Incomparably superior to circulars. An unusual opportunity.

The first name is that of the owner; a'r't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

GREATER NEW YORK'S GREATEST STORE
Bloomingdales
3rd AVE 59 & 60TH STS

Builders, Landlords and Agents
Having Charge of Estates:

If you are in the market for AWNINGS we can supply you. You should get our prices before placing orders. We do a very large awning business. Our work is first-class. Our prices we believe are lower than can be had elsewhere for the same grade of work.

Samples and estimates cheerfully submitted.

LIFE Hangs on a Rivet.

A rusted rivet may cause the destruction of a modern building, or a railroad bridge. Do you realize the necessity of keeping the iron free from rust? Linseed oil paint will not do it. Dried linseed oil is permeable to moisture. Paint may remain intact and rust go on beneath it. There is but one way to prevent rust. Coat the iron with a skin that will absolutely keep moisture out.

DURABLE METAL COATING

Is an elastic varnish, especially prepared for use on structural iron. It costs but little more than paint, and the building is safe. Pamphlet free for the asking.

The Largest Trees in the World.—The largest tree in the world is said to be seen at Mascali, near the foot of Mount Etna, and is called "The Chestnut Tree of a Hundred Horses." Its name rose from the report that Queen Jane of Aragon, with her principal nobility, took refuge from a violent storm under its branches. The trunk is 204 feet in circumference. The largest tree in the United States, it is said, stands near Bear Creek, on the north fork of the Tule River, in California. It measures 140 feet in circumference. The giant red-wood tree in Nevada is 119 feet in circumference.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Find of Marble in South Africa.—Valuable marble, said to be equal to Carrara marble, has been found in German Southwest Africa. It is asserted that the beds are most valuable, owing to their size and thickness. The Government has sent a committee of experts to report on the find, believing that the discovery will enhance the commercial value of the colony tenfold.—New York Tribune.

Measuring Reflected Light.—The following table shows the amount of light reflected from the various substances as compared with that which falls upon their surfaces, and has been compiled by Dr. Sumpner:

White blotting paper	82 per cent.
White cartridge paper	80 "
White tracing cloth	35 "
White tracing paper	22 "
Ordinary foolscap	70 "
Newspapers	50 to 70 "
Yellow wall paper	40 "
Blue paper	25 "
Dark brown paper	13 "
Dark chocolate paper	4 "
Planed deal, clean	40 to 50 "
Planed deal, dirty	20 "
Yellow painted wall, dirty	20 "

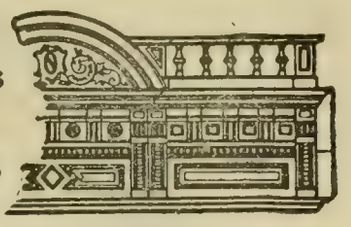
The Longevity of Cedar Wood.—Some Egyptian boats made of cedar, probably in use 4,500 years ago, have been found buried near the banks of the Nile, and furnish an interesting proof of the power of that wood to withstand the ravages of time.—N. Y. Evening Post.

A Great Engineering Work.—One of the grandest engineering works ever conceived has just been inaugurated by the laying of the foundation stone, at Assouan on the Nile, of a vast granite dam, which is destined to hold the waters of the historic river in check. This huge wall will be more than a mile in length, 76 feet high in places, and 30 or 40 feet in width, so that it will form a bridge across the river as well as a dam to conserve its waters. The effect of this obstruction will be the formation of a reservoir, with an area of about 670 square miles, holding 1,000,000,000 tons of water; and it is estimated that this mighty volume will be the means of bringing 2,500 square miles of desert land under cultivation. The so-called cataracts, which are in reality rapids, will disappear, and a lock at each end of the granite wall will form gates for the passage of vessels up and down stream. The work has been planned by Sir Benjamin Baker, will be undertaken by Mr. Aird, and will probably be completed in about four years' time. It is regarded as the greatest engineering enterprise undertaken in the land of the Pharoahs since the building of the Pyramids.—Chamber's Journal.



Some young architect, with a little leisure time, and a taste for chemistry, might do the world a service by devising ways for utilizing aluminium as a material of construction. At present prices, it is cheaper than copper for many purposes, and has advantages which copper does not possess. It has also some disadvantages, but a man of scientific turn of mind should find pleasure in utilizing its peculiar qualities in such a way as to compensate its defects. Hitherto, it has been treated, in building, too much as a precious and costly material, suited to replace silver. Some time ago, a great deal of money was spent in producing ornamental hardware, such as knobs and handles, in aluminium, with very unfortunate results. The metal being, like copper, hard to cast without blow-holes, it is necessary to use expensive apparatus to compact it in the molds; and, after the work is finished, the aluminium soon assumes a leaden color, diversified with white specks, while it blackens gloves and clothing almost as badly as lead; so that its use for hardware to be handled is not advisable, unless, perhaps, as an ingredient in some alloy not yet described. There are, however, other purposes for which it is well adapted. When copper was cheap it was occasionally used for smoke-pipes of stoves, and aluminium should be equally serviceable, where it is not to be exposed to a heat great enough to melt it. Tubing of aluminium might also, it would seem, be used for open plumbing. Although it would slowly tarnish, it could be readily cleaned, and, at the worst, it would never assume the unpleasant appearance of neglected nickel-plating. For flashings, it seems as if a pure, soft aluminium might be very useful, being stiffer than lead, cheaper than copper, and less easily corroded than zinc; and the same qualities would adapt it for rain-water conductors, and perhaps for gutters.—Am. Architect.

Sir Joshua on the Decoration of St Patrick's.—Just now, when the decoration of St. Paul's Cathedral is being actively carried out, a letter written by Sir Joshua Reynolds, which will shortly be put up at auction in London, is of special interest. "I fear," he writes, under date of October 16, 1773, "our scheme of ornamenting St. Paul's with pictures is at an end. I have heard that it is disapproved of by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London. For the sake of the advantage that would accrue to the arts by establishing a fashion of having pictures in churches, six painters agreed to give each of them a picture to St. Paul's, which were to be placed in that part of the building which supports the cupola, which was intended by Sir Christopher Wren to be ornamented with pictures or bas-reliefs, as appears from his drawings."—Springfield Republican.

Archaeology in the Soudan.—The opening up of the Soudan offers a rich field for the archaeologist, and Egyptology will be enriched by many important "finds." A large number of monuments of Egypt's power which have never been thoroughly investigated lie scattered about Upper Nubia. The temples of Soleb, the ruins of the great Cushite cities Napata and Meroe, of which the latter is 560 miles above Assouan, between the fifth and sixth cataracts, the antiquities at El-Mesaourat, eight hours' journey from Shendy, are all waiting for the archaeologist. In fact, it is almost a virgin country, for its antiquarian treasures have not been investigated since Cailliaud, the French traveler, studied them in the early part of this century. His work "Voyage a Meroe, etc.," published in 1826, is still the main authority for a country which, if not the cradle of Egyptian culture, as was at one time supposed, is full of memorials of the power of the Pharaohs. English archaeologists have not been idle in following the Sirdar's wake. Dr. Wallis Budge, the keeper of the Egyptian and Assyrian departments at the British Museum, was there last year, and has been visiting some of the antiquities in the neighborhood of Shendy this year. He returned to Cairo a few days ago from the Soudan. His discoveries have not been made public, and the result of his important investigations are impatiently awaited by all who take an interest in Egypt's wonderful past.—Cairo Correspondent of the London Chronicle.

NOTHING is more likely to bring home to the speculative world the fact that everything is not now running so entirely in favor of the United States as was the case last year than the considerable export of gold that goes out this week. There is nothing alarming in the fact that a few millions of gold must be shipped to meet our debts abroad, but it will surprise the many who could not believe that the remarkably favorable business circumstances of the last year or two were not to become permanent. Gold exports in the present liquidating condition of the stock market will be a good card for bear operators to work on, and the process of getting prices down will be hastened by that fact. Here and there and now and then the market offers some opposition to the decline, but the force of necessary liquidation is generally too much for it, and the strength is only temporary. The best hope for a substantial rally is found in the fact that the bear sentiment has become quite extended and the borrowing of stocks noticeably large. It is well to remember when regarding the weakness of stock market quotations that that is a thing apart from the general situation, and is due entirely to over-confidence in the late speculative movement on the long side. It is not brought about by unfavorable outside conditions; it is a local trouble for which the application of remedies locally is all that is necessary to effect a cure. The financial and commercial situation is sound. Business is good in all lines; iron especially calls for attention in that regard. While results in metal industrials have not recently been at all satisfactory, it is at the same time certain that it is in that direction that the big money will be made during the present period of business revival. This is a text from which we have preached for some time, and now find that the movement is attracting attention elsewhere, so that the public vision will soon be brought into line with the surprising results that have already come to view, and speculation will be guided accordingly.

THERE is a certainty that the European money market will soon feel the effects of Governmental borrowings. A Japanese 4% loan of £10,000,000 is about to be issued in London, where also there is a Mexican loan conversion on the carpet and talk of a new Russian loan. The last is not received with much favor, because it is felt that the Russian Government has recourse to London only because it has exhausted its credit for the time being in Berlin and Paris, and because of the unsatisfactory economic condition of the Russian people. As bearing on the latter, some figures reported to his Government by the British Consul-General at St. Petersburg are interesting. These show that in European Russia, as a result of bad crops and high taxation, the number of horses per 1,000 of population decreased from 1861 to 1898 from 260 to 182, the number of cattle from 357 to 259, of sheep from 733 to 405, and of swine from 157 to 97. Considering that, in spite of attempts to foster manufactures by tariffs, Russia is still an agricultural country, these figures point to an alarming retrogression in the material condition of the people. British bank reports for the last year corroborate fully the accounts of the prosperous condition of business in the communities they serve. Deposits and assets both increased substantially, and the average premium on the shares in the market has advanced in the past year from 227% to 244%. There have also been satisfactory advances in the prices of colonial banking shares quoted on the London Exchange. From Buenos Ayres comes the story that not only is the famous project for another special issue of inconvertible currency, to be exchanged at 2½ dollars for one of gold, to be revived in the coming session of the Argentine Congress, but there is also a packed majority formed to make it law; and, worse still, that the executive is secretly favoring it while outwardly affecting to oppose it. From the same quarter it is also reported that the Government contemplates the imposition of a per capita tax on the sheep and horned cattle in the country. French cotton spinners and weavers continue their agitation to prevent the Government from making any concessions on imports of foreign manufactured cotton into Madagascar. Industrial issues still make the activity of the Berlin bourse. It is announced that a German commission will go to Asia Minor, Armenia and Mesopotamia soon in order to make investigations into economic conditions, with special reference to the continuation of the Anatolian Railway to the East. The industrial consolidation movement is also finding expression in Austria under a moderate revival of public interest in business. It is announced from Vienna that the fact that several banks have shown a practical interest in industrial undertakings has given much satisfaction, and the Creditanstalt has lately succeeded in reuniting all the Austrian fez manufacturies in one great establishment, and it has now undertaken a similar transaction for the paper manufactories of Austria. It is about to turn one of the first machine manufactories into a joint stock company, and it is negotiating for the acquisition of a new invention of a cheap and quick system of making cards for pattern weaving which is believed to be of the utmost importance to the textile industry.

MAZET AND REAL ESTATE ASSESSMESTS.

THE information elicited by the Mazet Committee concerning real estate assessments was not, of course, very novel to our readers. Everybody who has thought at all about the subject has concluded that the existing system of taxing real estate is crude and unscientific. Under it, the tax list is no doubt a hodge-podge of inequalities. This is no fault of the Department or of the assessors. It is inherent to any system of taxation based upon "value."

How is "value" to be determined? There are nearly as many methods of attempting a computation as there are pieces of property, but in the end all result in more or less of guess-work. Everybody knows how rare it is that even the most expert appraisers agree. At times the difference between their estimates is little short of ludicrous. Ask the average real estate man what makes the value of a piece of real estate; ask him why, for instance, a square foot of land on the corner of Broad and Wall streets is worth more than a similar square foot on the corner of Liberty and Nassau streets, and how the precise so many dollars of difference is to be accounted for mathematically, and you will then see in what a foggy atmosphere the conception of real estate values exists.

The only way to determine what is the market value of a piece of real estate is to sell it, and then, even the moment the hammer has fallen, there will be good judges who will declare that the price given does not represent the value of the property. The parcel is worth more or less as the case may be.

Mr. Moss should keep in mind that if the task of assessing real estate for the purpose of taxation were committed to the most experienced and honorable of our real estate experts, and they were given unlimited time to consider all the circumstances and conditions of each piece of property in the city, the list when completed would still be full of contradictions and inequalities, and he could put each and all of the experts on the stand and ask them annoying questions.

The systeam we are working under is essentially an imperfect one. It is worse; it is bad. We would like to see a commission appointed to carefully consider the subject and amend our ways. Taxation should be based upon something that is definite and determinable. The value of real estate is not definite, and it is not determinable except by subjecting the actual property to the test of the market, which in itself is an uncertain quantity, varying from day to day. It has been proposed that taxes should be based upon rents. Such a system would have some weak points, but it would not be a system of guess-work, and when the Mazet Committee report to the Legislature at Albany it is this guess-work they should strike at.

ALL attempts to give the figures for the tax rate partake largely of the nature of guesses. On the opening of the tax books last January, the budget requirements having been previously made known, 2.50 was settled upon as the likely rate, but, as was pointed out at the time, nothing definite could be stated until the personal estate valuations were determined. These have not been officially announced yet. Now it is stated that the rate for Manhattan will be 2.65, because of additions to the budget for excess expenditures in 1898. It ought not to surprise anyone that some additions to the current budget will be necessary because of the inadequacy of taxes levied in 1897, because the charter anticipated that and provided for it, as will be seen by reference to page 50 of Van Siclen's "Bearing of the Greater New York Charter on Real Estate Interests," where will also be found the reason why different rates will be levied in each borough, which is that in forming the new city the Legislature did not abolish or change the existing county organizations, and different rates in each borough will be necessary in order to pay the salaries of the county officers and other county charges and expenses. For the rest the public may be content to wait until the revised tax values of real and personal property and the varying charges on the several boroughs are announced. It will be easy then to calculate the exact tax rate. Meantime no one need indulge the hope that it will be a low one.

THE APPELLATE DIVISION COURT-HOUSE.

(See Illustration.)

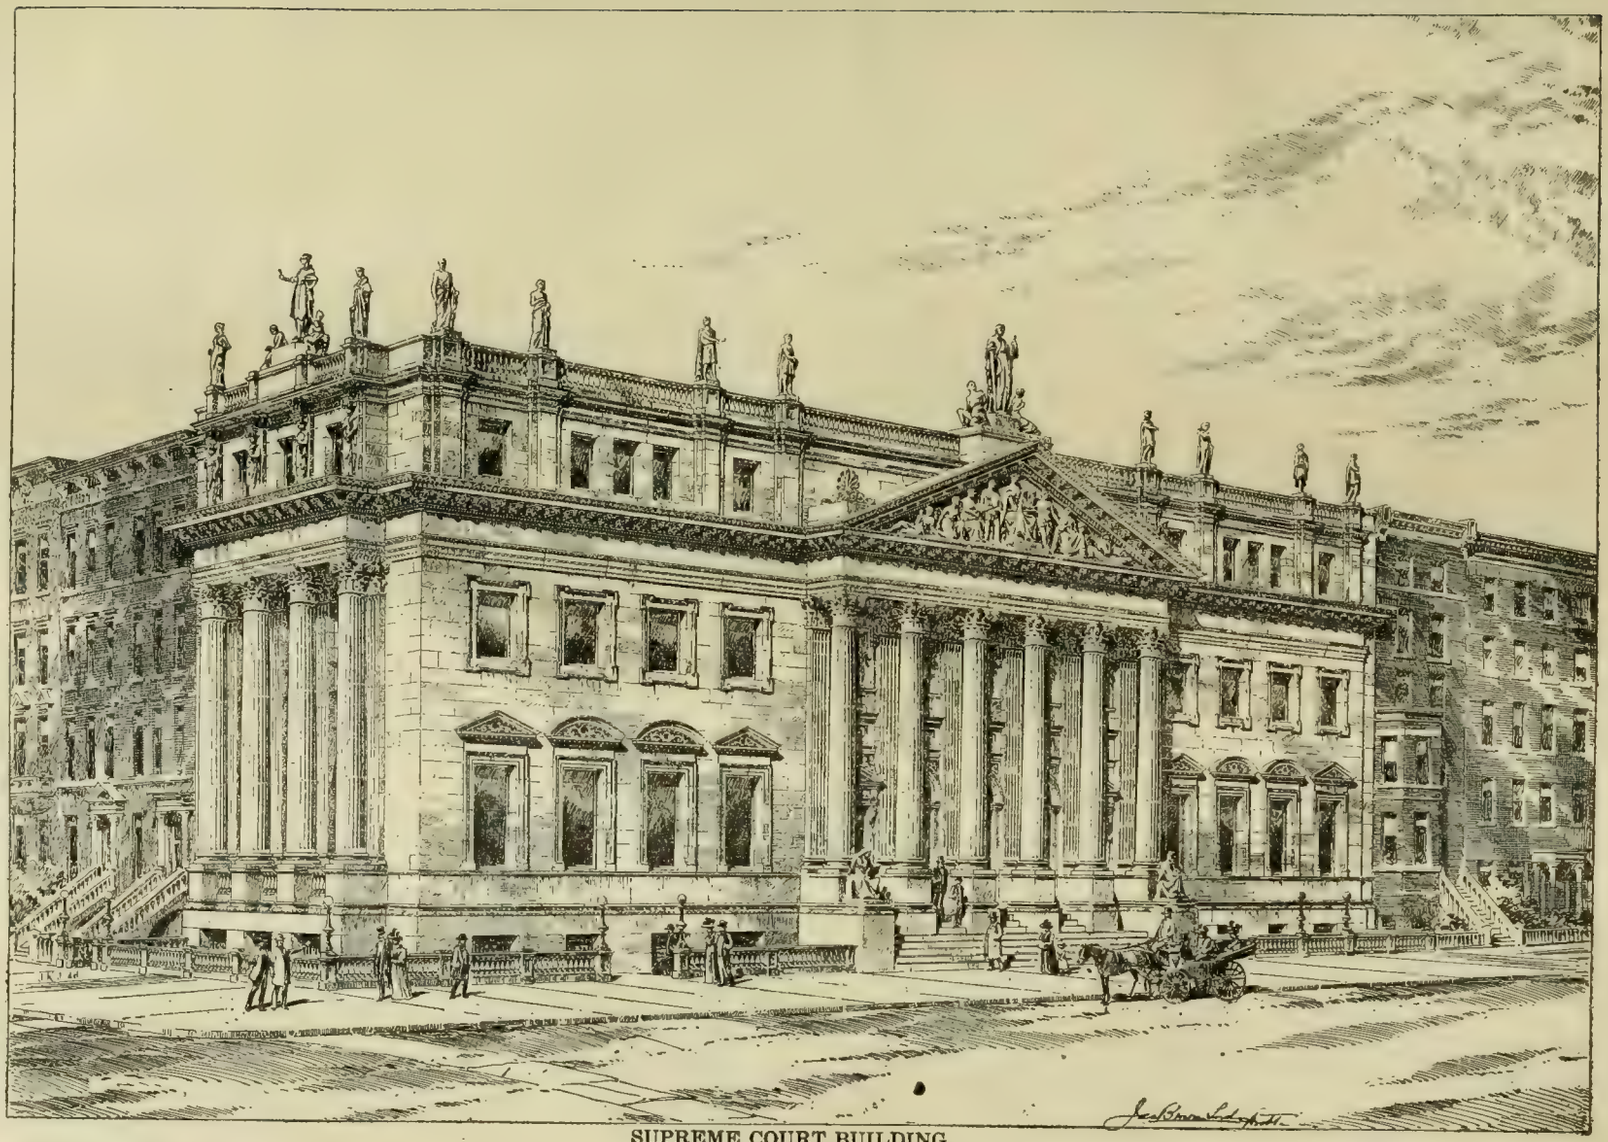
THAT is a very interesting and characteristic building which is now nearing completion, so far as the mere architecture of it is concerned, at the corner of Madison Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street. Everybody knows that the mere architecture is not all there is to be of it, but that sculpture is to be an integral part of the exterior and painting of the interior design. The architect was bound in his work, to take notice of these facts and to govern himself accordingly, even in his primary dispositions. It was his business not only to provide fields for the display of "the allied arts," but also to choose a style for his own work to which the allied artists could most readily conform. This requirement really imposed upon him some phase of classic, whatever his own preferences might have been if the question had been an open one. For, except in ecclesiastical work, there cannot be said to be any non-classical "school" of architectural decoration now extant. The only serious attempts at such a school were those made in England during the prevalence of the Gothic revival. The most conspicuous of them was, of course, the decoration of the Houses of Parliament.

It was not the most successful, for there are less conspicuous civic buildings in England of the period of the Gothic revival in which the decoration and the architecture are much more of a piece, while without doubt in church work the revival lasted long enough and was pursued earnestly and intelligently enough to give all the artists and artificers concerned a working knowledge of a common style in which they could all express themselves freely. Such a thing is quite out of the question now, when all the training and all of the traditions of our decorative work, short as it is, and such as it is, is derived from France. The architect of the new court-house had really no more choice in regard to style than the architects of the Chicago fair.

There is another and more purely architectural consideration which in this instance might operate to stay the hands of those who can detect no sign of truth and reality, and, therefore, none of life and progress, in the style adopted for this building, and who might be tempted to accuse the architect of "following a multitude to do evil." That is that a building which ought, in virtue of its public purpose, to assert itself above its neighbors, cannot, by reason of its plan and disposition, assert itself above them, or even on an equality with them. It is actually lower than the five-story houses which are its immediate neighbors, and still more markedly, of course, than the club-house on the corner above and the huge Madison Square Garden beyond, with which it comes into a competition which it cannot, in the matter of dimensions, sustain. The only recourse of the architect was to distinguish this narrow front by a separate treatment, and to make the very utmost of the one respectable dimension which he had, the length of his front upon the side street, by an emphatic horizontal treatment. The frontage upon the avenue is something less than fifty feet; that upon the street something more than 130. Of course this horizontal emphasis could be given in any style, but the Italian Renaissance, which was chosen, offers special facilities for imparting it, and would go far to justify itself for that reason alone.

Upon the whole the general treatment seems consistent with itself, and it is very carefully carried out. We speak, of course, without reference to and indeed without even knowledge of the plan. This knowledge is unfortunately not necessary for an architectural criticism of the exterior. For it is quite plain that the exterior architecture, instead of being the expression of the interior, has as little as possible to do with it. Every spectator knows the general requirements of a court-house. It may have several court-rooms. It must have one, and this must be an apartment distinctly superior in every dimension, as in dignity and architectural importance to the other rooms which are merely accessories and dependencies of it. No such subordination can be detected here. Moreover, the emphasis of the horizontal lines, which was predetermined upon architectural grounds, accentuates the separateness of the stories, and denies that two of them may be united for any purpose within, as it seems they must be in fact in order to accommodate a sufficient court-room. No doubt all this is practically looked out for. But evidently three tiers of apartments which differ very slightly in height in the different tiers, and not at all in the same tier, do not constitute a court-house. That is to say, the architecture not only is not made out of the building but has as little as possible to do with the building, being the execution of a preconceived scheme, to which the actual building is mechanically adjusted but by which it does not pretend to be expressed. Architecture has here quite ceased to be an art of expression.

This is so common a defect that it would be alike absurd and unjust to impute it to any one practitioner. But this is too conspicuous and typical an illustration of the common tendency to be passed over. It is plain that architecture conducted upon such principles can have no real promise—that it can never become a living art. All that one can do, in discussing it, is to take the artist's own point of view, not continuing to repeat, but never forgetting that this is not the real thing, that "it is not, nor it cannot come to, good."



Taking the artist's own point of view, then, and considering his conditions and requirements, let it be said at once that the treatment shows much ingenuity. We have already adverted to a capital difficulty, that of giving importance to a building actually lower than the common run of domestic buildings in its neighborhood. This is very well surmounted, or evaded, by the introduction of the order, and particularly by the manner of its employment. It virtually constitutes the shorter front, and thus gives that front a scale beyond that of its neighbors, and does as much as such a feature can to assert the superior importance of the building to which it belongs.

We have said that the order in effect constitutes this shorter front. Above a low basement, and below a very plain attic, of which the plainness is very likely not only studied but provisional, and will disappear after the statues are in place, it occupies all of it in height and all of it in width, with only so much reservation at the sides as is necessary to complete and to exhibit it. This framing of the order between plain piers, withdrawn from its plane, enables the entablature to be fully carried out at the angles with a very remarkable increase of effect. This reservation is repeated on the long side, although the order is there confined to the central third, and it is there equally effective in giving value and completeness to the entablature. On this shorter front the order consists, appropriately enough, of four pilasters, sustaining the very elaborate entablature, unusually profuse in carving in the Greco-Roman manner, although the actual detail is all, or in effect all, after Grecian models. At any rate it is, in care of modelling, justness of scale and precision of execution, about the most effective classical detail in New York, its effectiveness being greatly aided, at least for the time, by the material, a brilliant white marble of an apparently more tractable grain, for the purposes of the carver than we are in the habit of seeing in New York. It is better adapted for showing off such detail either than the sandstone or than the terra cotta to which we are more accustomed.

The order encloses two stories of three openings in each, of which the lower are round arches and the upper rectangular holes. The arches are furnished with protruding keystones, and these keystones are an exception to the rule of strict classicality of detail which is elsewhere enforced, for they are of that lank pattern which was introduced when Renaissance forms descended to carpentry, and which we recognize as "Colonial." We should doubt whether the architect had any precedent for them in Renaissance stone work of the classical period to which he has resorted for the rest of his detail, and at any rate they offer it a queer and emphatic contradiction. All the rest of the detail is not only in keeping but it has been reproduced with successful and unusual pains. This applies not only to the detail of the girdling entablature, which is much the most striking feature of the building, but equally to the Corinthian pilasters which sustain it (though to be sure it was not easy to go wrong about these), to the mouldings of the windows and to the carvings in the pediments of these and the panels between them. All these are "classical," scholarly, and, by reason of the unusual precision with which they are modelled and cut, not so tiresome as you might think.

An order consisting of what is already in place; that is to say, an order of pilasters, or possibly of engaged columns, would have been a fortunate solution of the architect's problem from his point of view. The projection of a portico of columns corresponding with the pilasters does not seem to us by any means so fortunate. There is always a pretentiousness about a colonnade that carries nothing, which, unless it be a mere entrance, requires larger dimensions and a longer series than we have here to sustain. Nor is the occurrence of the statues sufficient to justify the columns, for the statues would have been virtually as effective above the pilasters. On the other front there can, of course, be no question. There the columns are justified by the pediment they carry, and are really required to signalize the central feature. The only drawback to the projection here is the fact that it brings the sculpture too far forward to be seen to the best advantage.

It may be questioned, too, whether the dignity of this central feature would not have been better consulted if the five openings it encloses had been uniformly treated. In fact the three central openings in the lower stories of which the middle one alone is an entrance are arches furnished with those queer classical keystones upon which we have remarked, while the two flanking ones are rectangular niches crowned with pediments. A like capricious variation is made in the treatment of the wings. These are each four openings wide. In the principal story the two outer are covered with triangular pediments and the two inner with curved. The variation, in view of the general treatment adopted, is injurious, although in any case the interest of these things lies exclusively in the very successful decoration of the tympana by carving. The second story is plainly treated, with only an enlargement of the mouldings at the corners, and the attic more plainly still, as is quite proper for the reasons already given.

As a frame and setting for sculpture, indeed, the building seems very well designed. To take the architect's point of view we have been required to waive the question of meaning and expressiveness altogether, and that is a concession which, from our own point of view, he should not ask us to make. Making it, we find the treatment of his shorter front effective and successful; the treatment of the longer less so, but possibly by his misfortune rather than by his fault. In its present condition the work is mainly attractive by the successful pains that have been taken in the design, adjustment and execution of the decorative detail.

IT is satisfactory to note that the Board of Aldermen have at length passed the necessary resolutions for sewering, grading and paving New Elm street, and for the repaving, etc., of intersecting streets. These resolutions are now with the Mayor, and, judging from remarks recently attributed to him, he will promptly approve them so that the work involved can be put in the hands of the proper departments and completed before fall.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, June 1.—Governor Roosevelt completed, on Saturday evening last, the examination of the bills left in his hands by the Legislature at its regular and at its special session.

He signed a large number of bills relating to New York on Friday and Saturday, but his most notable action was his approval of the Franchise Tax Act. In the opinion of John J. Merrill, the Corporation Tax Clerk of the State Controller, the corporations of New York city will pay to its government the first year of the operation of the Franchise Tax Act $6,000,000 additional to what they now pay. In the remainder of the State he estimates $4,000,000 will be paid. One important result of the passage of the Franchise Tax Law, in his opinion, will be the immediate revision of the taxation laws of the State; with the cordial assistance of the corporations.

"The franchises of the corporations," he said to-day, "will be appraised at their full value. In turn, they will demand, and see to it, that real estate is appraised at its full value. The appraisement rolls of property all over the State will thus be changed. The immediate effect of the Franchise Tax Act, if there is no increase of public expenditures, will be a decrease of taxation on real estate all over the State."

Governor Roosevelt signed the following acts Friday or Saturday:

Chapter 639 (Senate Printed No. 1198), depriving the Department of Parks of charge of 4th avenue, Brooklyn.

Chapter 643 (Senate Printed No. 40), imposing two-thirds of the cost of opening Prospect avenue, Flatbush, upon the City of New York.

Chapter 646 (Printed Senate No. 525), declaring that if the exterior or front wall of any building now standing in the County of New York shall extend not more than (four) "ten" inches upon any street, such wall shall not be removable unless an action in behalf of the City of New York shall be instituted within one year after the passage of this law.

Chapter 650 (Senate Printed No. 1064), amending Section 1323 of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to appeals, by providing that when the appeal is from a judgment in favor of the owner of real estate, in an action to set aside a conveyance thereof, said owner shall have the same right to sell, etc., as in an action to compel the specific performance of a contract for sale.

Chapter 652 (Senate Printed No. 963), authorizing the East River Bridge Commissioners to buy more land for the anchorages and towers of the Bridge.

Chapter 672 (Assembly 1946), amending the Tax Law in relation to the appointment of special guardians in transfer tax proceedings; authorizing the Surrogate to appoint a special guardian of infants.

Chapter 689 (Senate Printed No. 69), authorizing the Board of Public Improvements to discontinue any proceedings for the improvement of the streets of the 26th Ward of Brooklyn at any time before a contract has been legally entered into for the work. Wherever assessments have been paid for work so canceled, the Comptroller is authorized to refund the same. The proceedings to which the act applies are:

Grading and paving of Richmond street, between Jamaica avenue and Fulton street, with asphalt; the grading and paving of Sutter avenue, between Rockaway avenue and Alabama avenue, with asphalt; the grading and paving of Berriman street, from Atlantic avenue to New Lots road, with Belgian block; the grading and paving of Snediker avenue, from Liberty avenue to Dumont street, with Belgian block; the grading and paving of Logan street, from Atlantic avenue to New Lots road, with Belgian block; the grading and paving of Sackman street, from Eastern Parkway to Livonia street, with Belgian block; the grading and paving of Vermont street, from Jamaica avenue to Eastern Parkway, with asphalt; the grading and paving of Hinsdale street, from Atlantic avenue to Sutter avenue, with Belgian block; the grading and paving of Ashford street, from Jamaica avenue to Arlington avenue, with Belgian block, or the grading and paving of Ashford street, from Jamaica avenue to Arlington avenue, with asphalt.

Chapter 691 (Senate No. 1188), authorizing the city authorities "to regulate the use of every building now used, or hereafter to be used as a hotel, in so far as the use thereof may involve the safety of the inmates in case of fire, by such ordinances or resolutions only as may be prepared and recommended to the said municipal assembly by the head of the department of buildings."

Chapter 698 (Senate Printed No. 1002), giving the "City Clerk," who shall also be the Clerk of the Municipal Assembly, the following fees: "For a copy of any book, account, record or other paper filed in his office, five cents for each folio; for a certification of any book, account, record or other paper filed in his office, twenty-five cents, and five cents in addition for each folio in excess of five; for each bond filed in his office, twelve cents; for filing all other papers required by law to be filed in his office, six cents; for a certificate of appointment of a Commissioner of Deeds, twenty-five cents."

Chapter 706 (Assembly No. 1720), providing for a division of notification in the bureau for the collection of assessments and arrears of taxes and assessments and of water rents in the department of finance in the City of New York, the head of which shall be known as the Notification Clerk. The act provides that:

The owner of any lot, piece or parcel of land in the borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, or any person interested in such lot, piece or parcel, may file with such notification clerk a statement containing a brief description of such land, together with the section, block and lot number thereof, and a statement of the applicant's interest therein, together with a written request that such lot, piece or parcel of land be registered in the division of notification, in the name of the applicant. In the said statement the applicant shall designate a post-office address to which notifications addressed to him shall be sent. The notification clerk shall thereupon register in a volume to be kept in said division as hereinafter provided, a brief description of such lot, piece or parcel of land corresponding to the description thereof in the statement so filed, together with the name of the applicant and his post-office address and the date of such application.

As soon as any assessment for a local improvement shall have been confirmed, including assessments confirmed by a court of record, and the list thereof shall have been entered and filed in the bureau for the collection of assessments and arrears of taxes and assessments, and of water rents, the said notification clerk and his assistants shall examine said assessment list and shall thereupon, within twenty days after such confirmation, mail a notice addressed to each person in whose name any lot, piece or parcel of land, affected by such assessment, is registered, at the post-office address registered in the records of said division, enclosed in a post-paid wrapper, which notice shall contain the brief description of the lot, piece or parcel of land and registered in the name of the person to whom said notice is addressed, together with the amount assessed thereon, date of confirmation, and title of the improvement for which said assessment is made, and a statement of the interest or penalty imposed for the nonpayment of the said assessment, and the date from which the interest or penalty will be computed. Failure to comply with the provisions of this act, however, shall in no manner affect the validity or collectibility of any assessment for legal improvement heretofore or hereafter confirmed, nor shall any claim arise or exist against the City of New York, the comptroller, the collector of assessments and arrears, or any officer of said city by reason of such failure.

The collector of assessments and arrears shall for the purpose of this act provide one or more volumes for each section of the city, included within the borough of Manhattan, as the same shall appear upon the tax maps of the City of New York, each of which volumes shall be ruled and printed in a proper and convenient manner.

The act takes effect July 1, 1899.

Chapter 707 (Senate No. 1001), giving owners of the following parcels of real estate located in the Bronx leave to file claims with the Comptroller of the City of New York for damages through changes of grades; Ward No. 21, in block No. 904; Ward No. 35, in block No. 905; Ward No. 70, in block No. 1173; Ward No. 16, in block No. 1684; Ward No. 81, in block No. 1208; Ward No. 31, in block No. 1180; Ward Nos. 20 and 21, in block No. 1684. Claims so filed will come under Chap. 537, Laws of 1893, as amended by Chap. 567, Laws of 1894. Time in which to offer testimony is extended three months from passage of this act.

Chapter 700 (Senate Printed No. 1000), giving similar relief to that provided in Chap. 707, to the owners of Bronx real estate, designated on the tax maps of the city as Ward No. 25, in block No. 1119; Ward No. 51, in block No. 1119; Ward No. 4 "A," in block No. 1667; Ward No. 1, in block No. 1111, and Ward No. 28, in block No. 1287.

Chapter 711 (Senate Printed No. 869), declares that the Board of Revision of Assessments may determine the damage "to the following real property, designated on the tax maps of the 23d and 24th Wards as Ward No. 39, in block No. 2365; Ward No. 42, in block No. 2366; Ward Nos. 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41 and 43, in block No. 3017; and to award damages for injuries in consequence of changing of original grades of the streets or avenues on which said several lots abut, provided, however, that whatever award may be made for damages to said premises described as Ward No. 5, in block No. 1558, shall be made to the owner thereof at the time of the passage of Chapter 209 of the Laws of 1897, appropriating said land for the purposes of a court house site. The Board of Revision is to, within sixty days after the passage of this act, transmit to the Comptroller a certificate setting forth the amount of any award."

Chapter 735 (Senate Printed 938), extending the time within which the remaining two-thirds of the capital stock of the New York State Title Guarantee Company may be paid to the first day of January, 1901.

Chapter 737 (Senate Printed No. 1138), which reads:

Section 1. Chapter nine hundred and eight of the laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-six, entitled "An act in relation to taxation, constituting chapter twenty-four of the general laws," as amended, is hereby amended, by adding thereto article thirteen, and to read as follows:

Article 13, Section 282. Limitation of time.—The provisions of the code of civil procedure, relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy, shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by articles nine or ten of said chapter, and this act shall be construed as having been in effect as of date of the original enactment of the corporation and inheritance tax law, provided, however, that as to real estate in the hands of bona fide purchasers, the transfer tax shall be presumed to be paid and cease to be a lien as against such purchases after the expiration of six years from the date of accrual. This act shall not affect any action or proceeding now pending.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

THE FUTURE OF REAL ESTATE.

The chief value for this country of English experience is that it immediately precedes ours. Trade revivals or reversals, new economic developments and so forth usually manifest themselves somewhat earlier in London than in New York, just as New York in these matters is ahead of more western cities. It is interesting, with this in mind, to learn that in England after some years of boom and excitement in stocks and manufacturing Capital is at last turning actively to real estate as a form of investment. This is the usual course of events. Real estate does not receive the stimulus of prosperity until after the Stock Market and the industrial world has been affected for some time.

Some persons who overlook this fact are inclined to be a trifle discouraged over the present real estate condition in this city. They expected real estate to respond rapidly to the general improvement of trade throughout the country and are inclined to believe that prices are too high or something else is wrong in the situation. They themselves are the only thing wrong. They are too impatient. "One at a time" is a rule of prosperity. The Stock Market has had its turn and now has very much less to offer to surplus capital than it had. Presently, the immediate attractive opportunities in the industrial world will all have been taken up. Then real estate will become the centre of investment.

English experience will repeat itself here. Forty years purchase will come to be the value of realty. The people who will make money in real estate are not those who are wondering whether prices may not be too high just at present, but those who are ready to turn into the market and buy, having faith that real estate is the final recorder of a nation's prosperity. The following article from The Times (London) describes English conditions:

The security which land and house properties offer for the employment of capital, in both large and small amounts, and the ever-increasing scarcity of Stock Exchange investments of the better class, are causing purchases of real estate to be made to a very large extent by buyers, among whom may be counted some of the principal insurance societies, who cannot be excelled as judges of the class of investment most suited for the employment of considerable funds, and who include in their purchases rent-producing premises from which they are able to derive an assured income without in any way decreasing the soundness or saleability of their assets; for prudent investments in good freeholds can certainly be relied upon to return the capital outlay in full whenever the occasion may arise. Many holders of Consols and railway debentures, which latter return only a nominally higher rate than the former, are being compelled to seek more remunerative kinds of investments, and, generally, trustee securities now stand at such prices that those trustees who have the power to buy land and houses are putting their funds into this class of security, while to the private buyer the advantages it offers are equally obvious.

The reported sales for the first four months of the current year aggregate to a sum well over three and a quarter millions sterling, of which by far the greater proportion has been realized by auction at the London mart, which is the recognized centre for dealings with real estate of any extent and value. Freehold ground rents, especially those which are amply secured and present an appreciable reversionary value to accrue in the more or less distant future, are much sought after as safe and improving investments, and form the subject of strong competition. It is not very long since 25 years' purchase was considered a fair and reasonable price to pay for such properties; now they have so appreciated that it seems very probable that eventually 40 years' purchase will be the sum to be paid for well-secured freehold ground-rents arising out of premises which present some tangible reversionary value, however remote. Shop property can be obtained to produce a somewhat higher rate of interest, but even this, when situated in good business positions, and in the occupation of prosperous tenants at fair rents, sells readily to pay about 4 per cent., and it may be looked upon as forming next to ground rents the best description of security for investment purposes. Residential property, whether of freehold or leasehold tenure, rarely appeals to a purchaser otherwise than for occupation, although the difficulty of obtaining suitable investments may ultimately lead to its being more extensively dealt in, in which case it might be expected to return a higher rate of interest than business premises, as it is not so readily let and is more liable to entail an occasional loss of rent. Amongst the property suitable for the purposes of investment which are shortly to be sold, further portions of the estate of the late Mr. William Angerstein will be offered by Messrs. Beadel, Wood & Co., comprising freehold ground-rents amounting to £418 per annum, secured upon about 140 shops and houses at Blackheath and Greenwich, of the estimated annual value of about £2,600, and leased for unexpired terms varying from 72 to 88 years. Other portions of the same estate comprise a residence with about 38 acres of land at Charlton, and about 28 acres in the vicinity of Woolwich-road, both of which areas appear suitable for early building development.

Owing to the causes previously mentioned, the demand for good investments in house property has exceeded the supply, and it is, therefore, not surprising to find a comparative scarcity of sound and improving securities in the market greater than has been the case in former years, when the demand was by no means so keen as at present. Some of the prices realized during the past few months for ground-rents with distant reversions, show that there are large buyers willing to accept an exceedingly small return rather than allow their surplus funds to remain idle, and on several occasions when premises in the city have been offered the competition to acquire them has resulted in prices being paid which could not be justified by any estimate of value based upon previous transactions.

Questions and Answers.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I am a tenant in house which, I understand, is built on the adjoining lot about 1½ inches. What I would like to know: 1st, Is there any limitation in time as to when the party so encroached upon must make his claim, etc., and have it adjusted? 2d, Owning two lots in a New Jersey suburb, and not having had same surveyed or fenced in (lots are unoccupied), and some one on the adjoining lots should happen to build on their property and enclose same with a fence before I did mine, and, if in years from now I should survey and find that neighbors had taken some of my property into their enclosure, what redress, if any, would I have, etc? 3d. Does my being a resident of New York City and not of New Jersey alter conditions of that kind?

Answer.—1st. Within twenty years. 2d. If you should bring suit within the time limited by the Statute of Limitations you could recover your land. 3d. No.—Law Editor.

TAXATION OF CHURCH PROPERTY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is church property in the State of New York exempt from taxation? If so, does this include the property such as that owned and occupied by the Methodist Book Concern? Are the tenements owned by Trinity Church exempt from taxation?

Answer.—The Tax Law reads as follows: "The following property shall be exempt from taxation. * * * The real property of a corporation or association organized exclusively for the moral or mental improvement of men or women, or for religious, bible, tract, charitable, benevolent, missionary, hospital, infirmary, library, patriotic, historical or cemetery purposes, or for the enforcing of laws relating to children or animals, or for two or more such purposes, and used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more of such purposes." I am of opinion that the property of the Methodist Book Concern and the tenements owned by Trinity Church should not be exempt from taxation, but whether the payment of taxes on this property is enforced I cannot say.—Law Editor.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Can a lien be placed on a church in New Jersey or anywhere else, or are they excluded?

Answer.—I know of no law in any State prohibiting the filing of a mechanic's lien against church property.—Law Editor.

In the brokerage branch of the real estate market the week has been a typical Decoration Day week. Business has been small in volume, and has, with one exception, been confined to cheap and medium-priced dwellings, with a sprinkling of flats, tenements, and unimproved or antiquated property. The exception is furnished by the sale of the 10-story store and loft building at the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 19th street. The deeds were filed this week for the transfer of the Real Estate Exchange Building to the New York Realty, Bond, Exchange and Trust Co. for $580,000, and of the National Academy of Design Building, at the northwest corner of 4th avenue and 23d street, to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for $440,000. The buyers of the Exchange property, who moved into temporary quarters on the premises a couple of weeks ago, are fitting up the ground floor for their own occupany. The information bureau, by the way, is to be thrown open to the public at a charge of 10 cents per ownership. The Academy of Design property was sold shortly before the purchase by the Academy of the block front on the west side of Amsterdam avenue, from 109th to 110th streets, in March, 1897. A temporary structure on the 109th street side of this plot will be ready by the time the classes of the Academy return for the autumn semester. It is interesting to note that the old site, fronting 80 feet on 23d street and 99 feet on 4th avenue, was bought from William Niblo, proprietor of Niblo's Garden, in 1860 for $50,000, being preferred to the block bounded by 25th and 26th streets, Broadway and 5th avenue, which might have been had for $52,000. The old Academy Building was designed by P. B. Wight, and was completed in 1864 at a cost of $200,000. It is perhaps the most famous building in New York, from an architectural standpoint, and the suggestion has been made that it should be torn down and rebuilt in one of the city parks. It will probably, however, be allowed to remain where it stands, after having undergone interior alterations, fitting it for service as a "taxpayer."

The total number of transactions reported below is 50, with considerations, given in 8 and amounting to $432,500. Corresponding figures for last week were 51, 5 and $698,000 respectively, and for the same week last year 28, 9 and $231,100 respectively.

In the auction branch of the real estate market business was of a more or less perfunctory nature. The list of offerings was small, and few of the parcels put up were of a character to invite competition. On Decoration Day two sales of lots in Bronx Borough were held on the premises. Of the 135 lots at Westchester, offered by William M. Ryan, 37 were sold at prices ranging from $400 to $685. Of the 75 lots and 16 houses at Van Nest Park, five houses were sold at from $2,200 to $3,800, and 35 lots at from $250 to $800. In view of the location of the properties—the street system east of the Bronx being yet in embryo—the result in both these sales was all that could reasonably have been expected. Of the few, and for the most part unimportant, properties voluntarily offered in the Real Estate Salesroom, the majority were bid in or withdrawn. The only notable exception was the 4-story brownstone dwelling, 25x65x92, at No. 13 West 18th street, sold by D. Phoenix Ingraham. In this case bidding started at $25,000, and rose briskly to $49,000, at which price the property went to Howard L. Hayden. The stores and tenements, at No. 278 7th avenue, and Nos. 202 and 204 West 26th street, sold at foreclosure by Samuel Goldsticker, likewise elicited a spirited competition, before they were sold to Geo. McGovern for $37,050, nearly $9,000 over the incumbrances. The 7-story business building at No. 81 Pine street and No. 128 Water street, belonging to John Pettit, was sold in foreclosure by William Kennelly to the plaintiff, the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, for $110,000, about $9,000 less than the mortgage and interest. Peter Meyer's foreclosure sale of the property of the Hudson Tunnel Railway Co. was adjourned to June 16.

William M. Ryan, as stated elsewhere, is receiving numerous requests for the book-maps of the Cammann and Tilden estates sales announced by him in our business pages. The Cammann estate offerings comprise 250 University Heights lots, which will be sold Tuesday next, under a partition order of the Supreme Court. These lots are located on Fordham Heights road, Andrews, Sedgwick and Cedar avenues, Loring and Cammann place, Harlem River terrace, and East 184th street, on high ground, adjoining the University of the City of New York. The development of this section has taken the form of high-class residences, for which these lots are eminently fitted. Trolleys and the Harlem Railroad afford excellent transit facilities. Titles will be guaranteed to purchasers free of cost by the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. At noon of the following day, 7th inst., the country seat of the late Samuel J. Tilden, "Graystone," will be offered by Mr. Ryan in front of the Manor Hall, Yonkers. "Graystone" is one of the most beautiful and accessible spots on the Hudson near this city. It will be sold in two parcels, one of 36 acres, and the mansion from which the place takes its name, together with stable, hot-houses and other buildings; and one of 55½ acres. The boundaries of these parcels will be found in the announcement of the sale, together with suggestions of possible future use. Permits, illustrated maps and further particulars are to be obtained at the office of the auctioneer in the Singer Building, No. 149 Broadway.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. announce the auction sale of the following parcels in our business pages, to which, as well as the firm named, at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street, readers are referred for fuller details and terms: For Tuesday next, 6th inst., seven lots on Audubon avenue and 172d street. For Wednesday, 7th inst., a lot on 205th and a lot and 3 frame flats, and lots on 206th street, six frame flats with stores on Villa avenue; the important downtown business parcel forming the southeast corner of West Broadway and Walker street, is offered under orders of the executors of the late Gustav Freygang, and Nos. 347 and 349 1st avenue, two 4-story single brick flats.

An exceptionally choice building site, comprising six full lots on 29th and 30th sts, is advertised in our business pages by O. G. Bennet, broker, of No. 150 Broadway. These lots are only 100 feet east of Madison av, and comprise frontages of 75 feet on 29th and 30th sts, and running through the block. The property is now occupied by the Home for the Friendless, and is located in a section which is very much sought after by investors and builders of high-class apartments. Experts say it is an admirable site for a bachelor apartment hotel, club house, or other similar improvement. Particulars and permits may be had from Mr. Bennet at the address already stated.

D. Phoenix Ingraham will sell at auction on Tuesday next, 6th inst., three vacant lots on 130th street, near Broadway; two 3-story high-stoop dwellings, Nos. 548 and 550 West 140th street, ready for occupancy; Nos. 125 and 127 East 129th street, a 4-story brick stable, covering plot 50x99.11, and four lots on 98th street, near 2d avenue. Further particulars of these sales will be found in our business pages, or can be had of the auctioneer at No. 111 Broadway. Prominence is given to the statement that the sale is to be an absolute one.

Attention is called to the novel invitation issued through the medium of our business pages by Joseph A. Farley, the well-known builder, to would-be buyers of homes. Mr. Farley has purchased a plot on 106th street, near Riverside Drive, which he will improve by erecting private residences, and offers buyers the privilege of obtaining a direct satisfaction of their wishes as to the kind of house that shall be built. Mr. Farley's address is No. 2787 Broadway.

Sixty acres of land and a country house on the Hudson are announced for sale by Abram Hyatt & Son, of Sing Sing, on another page.

Brooklyn.

The holiday on Tuesday and the warm weather combined to make the week in Brooklyn realty somewhat slow. All of the transactions mentioned this week properly belong to last week's happenings, but were announced too late for the review of a week ago. These transactions show a revival of activity in outlying properties, not only in Kings County, but in nearby counties on Long Island. With the approach of the summer season, it is expected that this class of properties will prove an attractive field for the real estate operator. If the transit facilities promised by the Long Island Railroad prove satisfactory, the boom in country holdings will be sure to follow.

In line with this suggestion comes the announcement that a local syndicate has just purchased a large tract of a thousand acres situated between the villages of Farmingdale, Deer Park, Amityville and Babylon. This tract is bounded on one side by the central and southern sections of the Long Island Railroad. It was purchased from E. Francis Hyde, vice-president of the Central Trust Company, of Manhattan, who held the same as assignee. The price paid was not disclosed. McNulty & Fitzgerald were the brokers who effected this sale.

The auction sale of the Timothy I. Hubbard and Bush farms, owned by the Germania Real Estate and Improvement Company, was the event of interest in the auction market. The sale was held on December 1 on the property. About 500 [illegible] were disposed of. While some brought good prices, the average lot sold for a much lower figure than was expected. The Hubbard farm was recently acquired by the Germania Company for purely speculative purposes. It is situated just west of Flatbush avenue, and is bounded on the north and west by the farm of John H. Van Brunt. It is said that $4,000 per acre has been offered and refused for this Van Brunt farm. The Hubbard property has been improved to the extent of cutting through streets and laying sidewalks on Avenues I and J.

Considerable interest is shown in the plan to make a public park at Coney Island. The plan of Controller Coler is to condemn all the land between Brighton Beach, Sea Gate, the Coney Island Creek and the Atlantic Ocean, with the exception of a small part near Sea Gate, which is now occupied by charitable organizations. The cost of such a proceeding would not be as great as is popularly supposed, because of a cloud on most of the titles. The first definite step toward carrying out the scheme was taken by the Board of Public Improvements on Wednesday of this week when a resolution was adopted which authorized a report to be made to the Board on June 14th next. This report will contain "a statement of the assessed valuation of the property so included within the limits of said proposed park, and an estimate of the cost of acquiring the same."

The sale for arrears of taxes on Brooklyn property for the year 1895, and years prior thereto, which was scheduled to take place on Wednesday of this week, was adjourned until September 27, 1899. There have already been a number of adjournments of this sale because of the readiness with which property owners have made settlements. For this reason still further time has been given so that all who can possibly do so, may be able to pay up.

According to the certificate filed by the Brooklyn Development Company with the Secretary of State, one-half of the capital stock has already been paid in. The capital stock amounts in all to $2,000,000.

Evidence that Brooklyn property is considered the coming field for large operations was furnished last week by the announcement that the D. & M. Chauncey Real Estate Company had increased its capital stock from $150,000 to $1,000,000. The principal stockholders are: C. E. Donnellon, George W. Chauncey, Enos Wilder and R. T. Griggs. It is the intention of this company to operate on a much larger scale than was possible under its former limited capital.

Through McNulty & Fitzgerald a large tract adjoining Slocum park has been purchased by ex-Judge Augustus Van Wyck and Mirabeau L. Towns. The tract consists of about thirty-five acres and is made up of the farms of Mary Summers, Elizabeth Stillwell, and John J. White. These farms are situated on Coney Island avenue, between Avenues R and J, running through to Ocean Parkway, on the west. The price paid was $87,500, or about $2,500 per acre.

A number of prominent residents of the Hill section have started a movement to organize a society for the purpose of promoting improvements in this part of the borough. The society will probably be known as the Brooklyn Hill Improvement League. A meeting has already been held, but the formal organization of the League will be postponed until early in the fall.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

Salomon Marx, the well-known operator, will leave town next week for his cottage at Arverne-by-the-Sea.

The Health Department has moved its offices from the Criminal Court Building to the old athletic club building on the corner of 55th street and 6th avenue.

The librarian at the New York Law Library reports a lively demand this week for the volume of Supreme Court reports relating to the State Railroad Tax Cases, 92, U. S. 604. This happens to contain the report explaining the method of arriving at the value of public franchises referred to in the address published by the Real Estate Board of Brokers last week in connection with the amended Ford bill before the extra session of the Legislature.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument Commission held a meeting at the Mayor's office on Wednesday and unanimously agreed upon the design known as "Temple of Fame," to be erected on Mount Tom, 83d street and Riverside Drive. This monument is to be built of the best Massachusetts white marble, and will stand eighty feet high. Its diameter is to be thirty-six feet. The design adopted was officially submitted to the Monument Art Committe, which must approve of it before it can be used. The cost of the monument is to be $250,000. The design is the work of Stoughton Brothers, architects.

If popular interest may be taken as a criterion, the Cammann estate sale promises to be one of the most successful auction events of the season. Mention was made last week of the handsomely illustrated book-map published by the auctioneer, William M. Ryan. The auctioneer's representative on the ground reports 150 visitors on Sunday, and 200 on Decoration Day. Over 500 requests have been received for book-maps, an unusual number coming from other than real estate men. Among those who have sent for maps are John D. Crimmins, Hugh J. Grant, L. J. Vance, W. W. Niles, Thos. A. McIntyre, M. T. Phelan, Man & Man, Philip Somers and Meyer S. Isaacs, these names being selected from a single page of the auctioneer's mailing book.

According to a newspaper dispatch from Washington, the Secretary of the Treasury has decided to receive bids for the New York Custom House property in Wall street up to noon on July 3, 1899. The bids must offer at least $3,000,000 for the building and site, that sum having been stipulated in the act passed by Congress at the last session. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $150,000. The other conditions of sale are that $75,000 be paid at time of transferring the property. On all deferred payments interest at 4 per cent. will be charged, and the Government will pay rental at the rate of 4 per cent. of the purchase price as long as it shall occupy the premises after the sale takes place and until the new Custom House is completed.

The tendency towards elaborateness and consequent costliness of service in office buildings is one of the most marked results of the competition for tenants for that class of mercantile housing. The figures illustrating this subject are usually well guarded by owners and agents, and probably vary widely with individual buildings. It is stated on unimpeachable authority, however, that apart from taxes, the running expenses in a new 16-story building, containing as elaborate a service as any in the city, amounts to $20,000 per year. The building contains 62,000 square feet of rentable space, which makes the cost of service something over 32 cents per square foot. The return on the investment represented by the ground and building is about 4 per cent. The building, though not in the financial district, is in the very best commercial district, and the average rent above the stores is $1.25 per square foot.

An effective method of securing the co-operation of speculative builders in the development of suburban property has been made use of in the quondam 24th Ward, east of the Bronx, by an enterprising real estate operator who came out of the West three years ago. With a capital consisting of $5,000 in cash and a per-to a piece of acre property, which he proceeded to cut up into some 400 lots. Enough were sold at auction to meet the immediate requirements of financing the operation, public sale incidentally serving to advertise the property and start constructional work. The remaining lots were sold privately to speculative builders at cost, on the condition that the profit which should result from the sale of the improved lot should be divided proportionately between the operator and the builder. It is said that in the three years which it took to develop and dispose of the holding, the operator, after making every possible deduction, including his own living expenses, retained a net profit of $55,000, with which he has embarked upon another similar venture.

Colonel Duffy supports his suggestion that the 69th Regiment Armory he established on the block between Lexington and 4th avenues and 25th and 26th streets, instead of on the site of the College of the City of New York, by the following statement regarding the respective values of the two sites: "By the purchase of property on Lexington avenue and 22d street and one lot on 23d street we would get an area of 200 by 220 feet," said the Colonel. "This space is not large enough for a regimental drill room. Besides, to get possession of this property would be very expensive. Abram S. Hewitt wants $240,000 for his property. Gen. Webb, President of the City College, wants $80,000 for his house and the two flat houses on 22d street and the building and lot adjoining the college on 23d street are valued at $50,000 and $35,000 respectively. This foots up to over $400,000. The value of the college site with the two lots on 22d street is estimated at $585,000. I am informed that the site I have selected can be obtained for $650,000. The city can get possession of it in six months. It will give the regiment an area of 200 by 400 feet, the same as the drill floor of the Seventh or Twenty-third Regiment."

J. Romaine Brown & Co. have leased No. 32 West, 33d street to Dr. Thomas T. Gaunt for three years. They have also leased No. 31 West 32d street for a similar term. These properties were included among the half-dozen or more 4-story brownstone dwellings in 33d and 32d streets, between 5th avenue and Broadway, sold through J. Romaine Brown & Co. in April. Another of the houses will presently be altered by the insertion of a store-front, and still another will be occupied by a milliner. At the time of the sale the buyer's name was withheld from publication, and there was much discussion as to whether the purchase was made for speculation or investment. The properties communicate in the rear, and it was reported that the buyer intended to erect a 14-story hotel similar to the neighboring Martinique. The three-year leases dispose of this report for the present. It is not without interest to note that Dr. Gaunt was the seller of the house which he now takes on lease. According to the conveyances, the buyer proves to be Michael J. O'Shaughnessy, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn. For No. 36 West 33d street, lot 17.6x98.9, he paid $60,000; for No. 30, on the same street, lot same dimensions, $51,000; for No. 35 West 32d street, 25x98.9, $75,000, and for No. 31 in the same street, 25x98.9, $70,000. To the other premises title has not yet passed. In this connection it may be noted that the dwelling at Nos. 18 and 20 West 33d street, belonging to the Astor estate, are in process of alteration to stores and offices.

NEW JERSEY NEW YORK LONG ISLAND

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

The tone of the market is one of great strength, and the important changes were in the direction of higher quotations, except in oils where declines are noted. Arrivals of brick to Thursday evening were 60 barges; demand was good and prices well maintained. Lime was scarce, but prices were unchanged by that fact. In cement the price of Rosendale, carload lots, was advanced to 90c. Arrivals of spruce lath amounted to 4,000,000; quotations for spruce slab were $2.30@$2.40. Wire nails advanced 25c., the quotation now being: $2.45 for carload lots f. o. b. mill Pittsburg base; $2.70@$2.75 small lots, mill shipments; $2.60 for small lots out of store. Quotations on cut nails are unchanged. Steel billets are $1 higher. Plate glass is 75 and 15% instead of 80%, as heretofore, with the market firm and demand quite good. In naval stores, the only important change was the advance in spirits to 43½c. for machines and 43c. for Southerns. There was a drop in oils, linseed falling to 39c. for 5-bbl. lots, less than 5-bbl. lots are unchanged from 44c. Calcutta dropped from 58c. to 54c.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES.

The Manhattan Brass Co. have received an important order for bronze work for the new office of the International Bank & Trust Co.

F. R. Comstock, architect, has closed up his office in Hartford, Conn., and moved his entire offices and residence to New York city; his new office is at No. 124 West 45th street, between Broadway and 6th avenue. Chappell & Bosworth, formerly Geo. P. Chappell, have removed to No. 229 Broadway. Ross & McNeil have opened an office at 39 East 42d St., corner of Madison av.

Samuel Sass, No. 23 Park row, and M. J. Smallheiser, Germania Bank Building, architects, have formed a partnership under the firm name Sass & Smallheiser, with offices at No. 23 Park row. As will be seen from our Building News, the new firm begins its existence with a good announcement of business for a summer week.

The following is a statement of the number of permits granted in Brooklyn, and alterations during May, and the estimated cost of the same: Brick buildings, 215, frame buildings, 222; total buildings, 437. Alterations, 275; total number of permits issued, 712. Estimated cost of brick buildings, $2,032,766; estimated cost of frame buildings, $495,715; estimated cost all buildings, $2,528,481. Estimated cost of alterations, $362,508; total estimated cost, $2,890,989; total estimated cost for May, 1898, $809,222. Excess in favor of 1899, $2,081,767.

The Builders League of New York met on Thursday evening for the annual election of officers. All the old officers were re-elected. They are: President, John P. Leo; First Vice-President, Judson Lawson; Second Vice-President, J. A. Roseman; Secretary, Charles A. Du Bois; Treasurer, Clarence P. Smith. After the meeting an entertaining vaudeville performance was given for the amusement of the 110 members who were present, and an elegant collation was served in the course of the evening. The annual outing of the League will take place on 20th inst., when a large gathering and a happy time are anticipated.

The iron workers and their helpers are out on strike for an increase of wages. A busy contractor says, "the iron workers demand an advance from $2.75 per day to $3.75, and the helpers from $2.00 per day to $2.80. The bosses are disposed to fight the matter out, if it takes all summer, rather than grant the increase which they claim is unwarranted." In connection with the strike it is interesting to note these figures, supplied by a leading contractor: "The price of iron has advanced in a year from $1.00 to $1.53 per 100 lbs. These figures on large quantities, say 100 or 200-ton lots. A recent estimate for the iron work on a block of four flats called for $4,600, against $3,300 for a similar job a few months ago."

A Washington dispatch says that the report of the United States Geological Survey on the production of stone in this country in 1898, shows a total valuation of $38,270,354, an increase of over $2,000,000 for all kinds of stone for 1897. There was an increase in the value of every stone, except marble, which fell slightly below the 1897 production. The values of the various kinds produced in 1898 follow: Granite, $9,258,406, including traprock valued at $927,961; marble, $3,629,940; slate, $3,723,540; sandstone, $4,619,412; limestone, $16,039,056; bluestone, $1,000,000. A gratifying outlook for the stone industry in 1899 is shown. The statistics give Pennsylvania first place in the value of the entire product, followed in order by Vermont, Ohio and New York.

The following is a comparative statement of the receipts of the Department of Water Supply for Croton water for building purposes for the months named. It will be noted that the receipts for last month were the largest of any month named. Exceeding even those of April, which made the record up to that time:

	1896.	1897.	1898.	1899.
January	$1,611.80	$2,605.30	$2,404.65	$4,855.60

Total	$36,833.97	$46,823.54	$40,575.74	.....

Rate, 10c. per 1,000 bricks.

These figures include stone work, which is figured as brick and lumped with brick, and frame houses in 23d and 24th Wards. The Department records, therefore, do not show exact number of bricks paid for, nor do the records show the following items:

Buildings in which water is used through meter. These are paid by meter measurement in Meter Department as charges for general consumption.

Buildings in which no Croton is used; well or spring water only being used; no charge.

Alterations and extensions, using less than 10,000 bricks; not charged.

Mayor Van Wyck yesterday sent to each head of a city department a copy of the new eight-hour law which was signed by the Governor on May 12, enclosed in a letter which said, among other things: "Every public officer should see to it that all proposals for work and all contracts for public work, payment for which is to be made from the City Treasury, shall contain such provisions, in clear and unmistakable language, as will insure the complete enforcement of the law." The law referred to contains a stipulation that: "Each contract to which the state or a municipal corporation is a party which may involve the employment of laborers, workmen, or mechanics, shall contain a stipulation that no laborer, workman or mechanic in the employ of the contractor, sub-contractor, or other person doing or contracting to do the whole or a part of the work contemplated by the contract, shall be permitted or required to work more than eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency caused by fire, flood or danger to life or property." Section 4 of the law provides that any public officer who violates, evades, or permits the violation of the law, shall be guilty of malfeasance of office, and shall be suspended or removed. Any citizen may maintain proceedings for the removal of such officer.

Meetings for the coming week at the Building Trades' Club: Marble Industry, Monday, at 3 p. m.; Hod Hoisting Association, Monday, at 7.30 p. m.; Master Painters, Tuesday, at 8 p. m.; Mason Builders, Thursday, at 8 p. m.

THE SUBURBAN MOVEMENT.

Unquestionably the most conspicuous feature of the real estate market at the present moment is the activity in suburban land, an activity which has not been equalled since the golden year 1892. In so far as the movement is general, it is sufficiently accounted for by the return of industrial prosperity. But in so far as it affects the 29th, 30th, 31st and 32d Wards, Brooklyn, comprising Flatbush, New Utrecht, Gravesend and Flatlands, it has been accelerated by special causes. Until consolidation, farm land in these wards was taxed on its value for agricultural use. Simultaneously with consolidation, by which the land became taxable as city real estate, Brooklyn Bridge was opened to the recently constructed trolley lines, thus connecting the suburban district in question with the business center of the greater city for a single fare of five cents. The old system of taxation had served to keep down land values, so that ground could be profitably cultivated on city thoroughfares. It was only the other week, for example, that a freshly planted farm of 25 acres, fronting on the trolley line in Ocean avenue, was sold through De Selding Bros. to a speculator, the farm at the last levy before consolidation having been taxed in the trifling sum of $388.67. The change from rural to urban taxes, and the extension of transit facilities, created a condition under which the owners of acre property could realize handsome profits, at prices which real estate operators considered low. The consequence was that speculators from all over the country, notably Boston, Baltimore, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse joined in a buying movement inaugurated by local operators, until at the present time most of the farms have passed into professional hands for subdivision into building lots. Among the operators in a large way of business which came from abroad were the capitalists composing the corporations, Wood, Harmon & Co. and the Brooklyn Development Co., the latter of which recently took title to 16 farms. The president and leading spirit of both these bodies is William E. Harmon. The theories upon which the operations of Mr. Harmon and his associates are based make interesting reading, partly because of the significance which always attaches to transactions of magnitude, and partly because they represent the judgment and experience of an unquestioned authority on suburban real estate. Mr. Harmon, in discussing the farm purchases in which he is interested, said: "Wood, Harmon & Co. operate in 25 cities east of Cincinnati. Our business is to buy suburban acre property and resell it at retail in the form of building lots. One of the indispensable conditions of success in this business is to obtain land at the time of the introduction of proper transportation. I have been a close observer of real estate in and adjacent to the Greater New York for the past ten years, and have familiar knowledge of every available farm in Bronx Borough, Staten Island and New Jersey, as well as Brooklyn. Nowhere did I find the conditions so favorable for us as in Brooklyn, and here I resisted the temptation to begin operations until the trolley lines carried passengers from the Manhattan side of the bridge to Coney Island for a single fare of five cents. In March, 1898, Wood, Harmon & Co. bought the tract since known as Oak Crest, and four months later, despite the war, every lot in the tract had been sold at private contract. This exceptionally rapid turnover was in large measure due to the policy which we have always followed of buying cheap and being satisfied with a small but quick profit. We paid an average of $125 per lot, and sold at an average of $390. The success of the Oak Crest operation induced me to organize the Brooklyn Development Co. for the purpose of doing a local business on a larger scale than was possible for Wood, Harmon & Co. We purchased this spring 16 farms, comprising 720 acres, at an average of $1,662 per acre, or about $100 per lot. Land similarly situated in Bronx Borough, seven and a half miles from the City Hall, and within from six to eight minutes' walk from the Manhattan Elevated Railway, sells at the rate of $8,000 per lot. We bought at the prices which have prevailed in this section of Brooklyn during the past fifteen years. The Williamson farm on Utica avenue cost us $1,800 per acre. Thirty years ago it sold for $2,000 per acre. In Brooklyn itself lots a mile and a quarter away from this farm have been selling at $2,000, or $45,000 an acre. The transportation facilities which created this price for lots taxed as city realty were not as good as those which now serve the Williamson farm. I make the prediction that land which is now selling at the rate of $2,500 and less per acre will in five years be cheap at $15,000. According to my observation, this suburban land in Brooklyn is selling for 20 per cent. less than equally well situated real estate in any other city east of Cincinnati. Some of this cheap land has during the past year been brought as near to the City Hall, in point of time, convenience and cost of travel as 110th street, where ground sells at the rate of $150,000 per acre. The economic change which has come over this land has been kaleidoscopic. But it takes the average man a long time to discover the work of an instant in real estate. With the public at large, including local land owners, Brooklyn real estate still suffers from conditions which no longer exist. If we had an exchange in which land were sold like stocks and bonds, the public would be trained to recognize instantly changes in conditions affecting realty. But because of the slow processes by which real estate opinion is at present developed and disseminated, we have a very interesting condition as regards land values in Brooklyn, a condition extremely favorable to the professional operator in suburban realty."

Questions and Answers

DESIRES TO STUDY LAW.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Being unable to take a law school course, I would ask what books you could recommend for self-instruction, appertaining to real estate, landlord and tenant, contracts, etc., for home study.

Answer.—Standard works on the subjects you mention are Kent's Commentaries; these will give you a general idea of the whole system of law; Washburn, on real estate; McAdam, on Landlord and Tenant; Parsons, on Contracts. I would recommend, however, that you become a subscriber to a correspondence school. There is one at Detroit, Mich., and one at Scranton, Pa. —Law Editor.

FORFEITURE OF DEPOSIT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A sold to B a house on contract and got $500 cash. B, after having recorded the contract, went to England. Now, as the house is completed, A wants the balance of money and to give title. B writes from England he can't come home now, and not in some time to come. But in case A does not like to wait till he can take title, he should return the $500 deposit and he (B) will then cancel contract and recording of contract. A does not like to give up $500 and wants to know if he can't sell house to somebody else, and in which way he can cheapest manage matters to give clear title to buyer as contract is recorded. There is no penalty of any kind in the contract, for breach of contract, it simply says title should be taken 15th of April.

Answer.—If A insists upon it B has forfeited his $500, but A cannot give a clear title to another purchaser until the record is cleared. This can be done by A's bringing suit against B for a cancellation of the contract.—Law Editor.

DIVISION FENCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have a house on Withers street, and the ground on the back yard of the house next door is three feet above the level of the street. The fence that surrounds my property belongs to me, and the ground in their back yard, being so much higher than mine, has rotted my fence, from the rain, etc., and their children, sitting on it all day long, has broken it in some places. Now I would like to know if they can be compelled to have my fence fixed or have the ground of their property made level, the same as all the rest of the property in the neighborhood. And please state where I have to go about the same. I have tried to settle with him in peace but he doesn't consent to do anything.

Answer.—The adjoining owner cannot be compelled to level his ground, but he can be compelled to bear his proper proportion of the cost of keeping the fence in repair. If there is a dispute between you as to what is necessary your Alderman settles it. When settled, if the adjoining owner does not bear his share of the expense you can have the work done and sue him for his share.—Law Editor.

UNRECORDED DEED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A buys a plot of ground and orders the property conveyed to B, his wife, which deed was regularly recorded, subsequent to same.

B, the wife of A, executes a deed of the plot to her husband, which was done to provide in case of the death of either the property would revert or be vested in the survivor. The deed from B to A was not recorded, but held. While the record shows the title was vested in B, the wife, the wife B, with the consent of her husband, borrows a sum of money and gave back the mortgage on the property, which mortgage was duly recorded, since which time the wife, B, has died. Can the husband A put the deed executed to him from B, his wife, on record, notwithstanding a mortgage was executed by her, B, with A's consent, after she had executed the deed to her husband, and will said deed, if recorded, vest and give valid title to the husband, A?

Answer.—A can put the deed on record. A will then have a good record title, but it will be subject to the mortgage executed by B.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title, and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. & G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each Convenance, thus 2 : 482, denotes that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—Subscribers will find Conveyances in this list with the wrong block No. attached. The block No. we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the Mort is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block No. attached. The block No. we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

May 26, 27, 29 and 31.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

Have you taken space in the new Illustrated Building Laws? Standard publication for Architects, Engineers, Builders, Contractors, Material Dealers, Real Estate Owners. An office tool, in constant and permanent use. A card in it will enable you to talk every day to your customers and to possible customers. Incomparably superior to circulars. The most efficient form of advertising. All the big, wide-awake firms are securing space. The biggest thing ever issued. Do you want to get in? Sent a postal card for particulars. An unusual opportunity.

The first name is that of the owner; a'r stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

DIFFERENCE IN GRADE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

My residence faces on street, the rear yard being about 3 feet above the grade of street. A contractor is building on the lots adjoining me on the right, but his buildings face on the avenue. The avenue grade opposite my rear yard is about the same as that of my yard. Should the contractor excavate along the line at the point above stated, who should bear the expense of the wall? In other words: what constitutes the legal city grade of a lot? Can you excavate below the city grade without protecting the property along the dividing line?

Answer.—There is no legal city grade of a lot. The grade of the lot may be higher or lower than the grade of the street, and in that case adjoining owners may have disputes about the division fence or the retaining wall. If an owner desires to excavate, he may do so to the extent of ten feet below the street grade, and the adjoining owner must protect his own land; if, however, the builder excavates deeper than ten feet, he, the builder, must protect the adjoining owner's land.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION ON LOAN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A buys a building, and authorizes B to negotiate a loan of $25,000 to take up the purchase. B, unable to get the loan, delegates the matter to C, who, likewise failing, turns it over to D, D, knowing that E could find the money, readily, gives it to him and the loan is promptly accepted by a law firm.

On tender of the acceptance to A, he declines to take it up, saying he must have $31,000 instead of $25,000, the amount he asked for. The law firm declines to make this advance, and the matter is supposedly dropped. A few days later A obtains a loan of $28,000 on the property, from the same law firm, and through his agent, B, while C, D and E are ignored. What right of redress, if any, have the latter three, especially E, who found the money for the original application?

Answer.—Upon this state of facts the commission is due to E upon the $25,000 which he obtained for A at the latter's request, transmitted to him through B, C and D. Let E sue for it, and call B, C and D as witnesses. The fact that A obtained $28,000 afterwards has nothing to do with his indebtedness for getting the $25,000 loan, although it will clinch the matter with the jury if it ever comes before them.—Law Editor.

TAXES PAID BY MISTAKE ON ADJOINING PROPERTY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly inform me what I shall do in the following case? I own a private dwelling on west side and rent it for a term of years and the party who owns a dwelling next door to me pays the water and improvement tax on my house instead of his own, but at the time of his death his son discovers the mistake and sends me a bill of the full amount including the penalty tax, and amounting to nearly one hundred dollars. Am I obliged to pay the penalty as well as the other tax for water and improvements imposed upon the property by the city?

Answer.—You are not obliged to pay one cent.—Law Editor.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A client gives a broker a piece of property to sell at a certain price, and the said broker receives an offer to the amount of said client's asking price, and then finds that said client has raised his price on said property without having notified said broker. Now, in such a case, is the broker entitled to his commission?

Answer.—If within a reasonable time the broker produces a buyer able, willing and ready to buy at the required price, he is entitled to his commission.—Law Editor.

Vol. LXIII. JUNE 10, 1899. No. 1,630.

THERE have been indications this week of a return of professional favor to the long side of the Stock Market; it cannot be anything but professional favor because the public has left the Street and will not return until the conditions are more attractive than they are at the moment. Doubtless their more legitimate occupations fully employ the people who make the market in active times, and, generally speaking, this is as satisfactory a feature of the situation as can be found. But it makes the stock market dull, or moved only to liveliness by the spasmodic actions of the speculative element. The reasons for the strength of prices this week are those given last week in this column to show that a rally was probable, namely, that stocks are so scarce that shorts find it difficult to cover, that money is cheap and the condition of the country prosperous. In times like these bear operations are rendered difficult, owing to the confidence of the people in returned prosperity and the easy circumstances of the community generally. This makes the process of bringing prices down, even when buying has been so overdone as was recently the case, a slow one. It also makes it easy for one party of operators to put the market up on another when short selling has been carried to the point of momentary imprudence. That a beginning of a pretty heavy export movement in gold has only been made is apparent, but this need not necessarily have a disturbing effect on prices, though its mechanical consequences would tend in that direction. While business is flourishing and railroad earnings are now large, we have to face the prospect of a poorer agricultural year than the country has known for some time. The loss of product will to some extent be compensated by increases in prices for grain, but it never happened yet that either the railroads or the agricultural communities were benefited by short crops no matter how much they rehabilitated prices. However, whatever is unfavorable in the situation can only affect values to the extent that they have been unduly inflated, in the belief that the exceptionally favorable circumstances of the country of last year and the year before were to continue for ever. There is no need for pessimistic views. Whatever is sound will hold, and whatever is deserving will advance as soon as the public has discerned its merits. The way in which Industrials respond to good news, while Rails are unaffected, is another proof of the soundness of our opinion that our prosperity affects manufactures most, and that in industrial shares, consequently, the most promise of profit is to be found.

THERE is evidently confidence in Lord Salisbury's ability to dispose as successfully of the Transvaal difficulty as he has of other equally dangerous matters in the past two or three years. If this were not the case the recently reported failure of the conference at Bloemfontein would have been followed by a panic in "Kaffirs" at the three principal financial centres of Europe. The fact that Paris and Berlin are deeply interested in South African enterprises lends strength to the situation, because it deprives the Boers of that "outside assistance" that was once the point of a celebrated telegram. It is lucky that this is the case; for, should matters become so serious as to paralyze the movements of the colossal capital invested in and around Johannesburg, the disturbing effect would be felt all over the world. Regarding other matters of business interest we note that, notwithstanding a considerable strengthening of its reserves and easier conditions in the outside market, the Bank of England maintains its discount rate at 3%. That the investing public do not feel quite easy either, appears to be the case from its failure to subscribe the Japanese 4% loan, of which, the cable reports, only 12% was taken and the rest left on the hands of the underwriting banks. Unless the outlook brightens, the Russian loan, about to appear, will receive similar treatment; not only is this loan open to suspicion, because of the low material condition of the Russian people, but it is also prejudiced by the political feeling of the people who are asked to make it. An interesting return has been made of the dividends paid upon 29 British steamship stocks in the past ten years. The average runs from 2½% to 11%, the low record being made by the line we are most familiar with on this side of the Atlantic, the Cunard. Other transatlantic lines do not appear in the list, being run by close corporations. The most profitable of the ocean going concerns were those trading with the far East and British colonies or possessions. From a mass of statistics relating to fiscal conditions in Australia it may be gathered that the colonies there are slowly but surely gaining ground and recovering from their distress of a few years back. Berlin advices are full of the extraordinary activity in the coal, iron and steel trades and the consequent speculation and boom in shares representing those industries. At the same time Vienna advices are full of moanings over the apparent impossibility of reconciling the views of Austria and Hungary on the States Treaty, and the view is held that should the hope of an amicable arrangement really have to be abandoned a catastrophe must follow.

THE work of the Commission on New Building Code is making satisfactory progress, and it is confidently expected that their report will be ready for presentation within the limit of time fixed by the terms of their appointment. The commission has had for their guidance the report prepared by George B. Post, ex-Mayor Cooper, Cornelius O'Reilly, Stevenson Constable, then Superintendent of Buildings in New York City; Samuel McMillan, Wm. J. Fryer, editor of "The Laws Relating to Buildings in New York City," and Wesley C. Bush, then Commissioner of Buildings for Brooklyn, a committee appointed from the Committee on Revision of the Building Laws, of which Mr. Fryer was also the Secretary. This report was based on the recommendations of sub-committees of the Committee on Revision, the members of which were specially selected for their intimate knowledge of the subjects to be particularly considered. The report, therefore, contained specialized opinions upon every part of the building laws based upon the practical experience of the day, which has undergone very little modification since. It was originally intended that these opinions should be put into the shape of a new building law and submitted to the Legislature. Meantime the Charter Commission was appointed and the Legislature, practically deciding that the matter was one for that commission's consideration, refused to make any radical change in the building laws. The report of the sub-committee of seven was placed at the disposal of the Charter Commission, but that body in turn decided that the building laws involved practical detail rather than principles of municipal government, with which they were most concerned, and relegated the whole matter to the Municipal Assembly by empowering them to appoint a commission to draft a building code. The view taken in these columns at the time the commission was appointed and its probable work was being discussed, that as the Tenement House Law was embodied in the charter and thereby made an act of the Legislature, the commission had no power to change it, has since been supported by the opinion of the corporation counsel and accepted by the commission.

ONE important problem, for which the report of the committee of seven does not provide a solution, has now come up for disposition. This is the extent to which the fire limits require to be enlarged under present circumstances and those of a future of some years at least. Without wasting time to show what was previously proposed, it is important to state the propositions now offered to the Commission on New Building Code and which they have to consider. It is well to state, however, that the charter makes other provision for the establishment of fire lines than may be included in the powers of the commission. In Chapter II., the Legislative Department, section 49, subdivision 31, the Municipal Assembly is empowered "to enlarge or extend from time to time the limits of the fire districts of the city, and to establish additional fire districts, and from time to time extend the same." It has been suggested by Mr. Fryer that the fire lines should be made the subject of a separate ordinance, because if once placed in the building code they can only be changed at the request of the Board of Buildings, while if put into a separate ordinance they can be changed at the request of the Fire Department. However that may be, the Commission on New Building Code is now considering the matter. The proposed limits for Brooklyn, by including the northern half of the 29th Ward (Flatbush), have aroused much local opposition. The Brooklyn members of the commission will give a hearing on the matter this evening in the office of the Flatbush Water Company, at Lenox road and Flatbush avenue, and Borough President Grout has asked that the commission as a whole give a hearing on the whole question. As to the Manhattan and Bronx limits, the Fire Department, when consulted lately, suggested little change to the limits as laid down seven years ago. The matter has been submitted again to Chief Croker, and he has been put in possession of maps showing the lines suggested by members of the commission and his predecessor, Hugh Bonner. The first relate to Manhattan, where it is proposed that the limits shall be extended to include all the territory between one hundred feet west of Broadway (Kingsbridge road) and the Harlem River; that is, all Manhattan Island, except the strip north of 165th street and west of 100 feet west of Broadway. As regards the East Side fire limits, the late chief of the Fire Department suggested that they be extended by the inclusion of a strip of territory 100 feet both east and west of 3d avenue north to Tremont avenue, thence 100 feet both north and south of Tremont avenue, west to Webster avenue and 100 feet both east and west along Webster avenue south to 165th street; also a strip 100 feet both east and west along Westchester avenue as far as Prospect avenue. The first forms a sort of square hook and the second a spur, and each has a somewhat singular appearance, as outlined on the map at least.

IT is in the Register's Office that the best idea of the volume of this season's real estate business can be obtained, and it is only inadequately describing the situation when it is stated that the past two months have entirely broken the records for the number of papers handled in a corresponding time or any parallel portions thereof. In April last the daily receipts of conveyances ran from 28 to 162, and of mortgages from 32 to 123. In April of last year the smallest number of conveyances received on any day was also 28, but the highest was only 151, as compared with 162; in mortgages the extremes were reached by the figures 33 and 167, respectively. The totals for the two months compare thus: Conveyances, 2,198 and 1,442; mortgages, 2,260 and 2,337; totals, 4,458 and 3,779. The last pair of figures show an excess in favor of the month of this year of 679. In May this was very largely exceeded. On the first day of that month 192 conveyances and 188 mortgages, together making 380 papers, were recorded, to compare with 117 conveyances and 128 mortgages, or a total of 245 on May 1st of last year. The totals for the second, third and fourth days of May, 1899, were 320, 274 and 240, respectively, while corresponding figures for the same days of 1898 were 255, 269 and 207, severally. The lowest daily total for last May was 89, while that for the same month last year was 41. In the month of this year 2,453 conveyances and 2,796 mortgages were received as against 1,740 conveyances and 1,874 mortgages in May of last year; the several totals being 5,249 and 3,614, or 1,635 less in May of last than in May of this year. The daily receipts of the office continue to be heavy, and promise to be so for longer than is usual at this time of the year, owing principally to the success that has attended auction offerings of unimproved realty this season. Not only do these figures attest the improvement in all departments of the realty market, but also serve to show the increasing effort constantly required of The Record and Guide to place the technical records of their particular industry before the realty public promptly and with that correctness and attention to detail that can alone make them valuable. The growth in the number of papers requiring record has also been the means of testing in the most thorough manner possible the machinery of the Register's Office as improved by the present incumbent. The result has been in every way satisfactory, and it is possible that we may hear this summer of feats of dispatch in the recording and returning of papers that will beat anything of the kind ever yet done.

PHILANTHROPIC consideration of the Tenement House would be more seriously and respectfully received by those who do not belong to the philanthropic ranks if more attention were given to the practical, economic side of the problem. You can't interest the builders and owners of tenement houses in the improvement of those buildings so long as the discussion goes on solely in a spirit of altruistic fervor and with complete disregard of the "working conditions" under which tenement houses are produced. These reflections are apropos of the recent meeting of the Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization Society. These people are "at" the Tenement House Law again. They have formulated a string of new amendments, some of which are good, some indifferent and others impracticable. It is unnecessary at this moment to criticise details, but what must strike everybody who follows the proceedings is that none of the reformers evinces any notion that the production of a tenement building is fundamentally a business transaction like the manufacture of boots or hats, and is not merely a sport that can be carried on under any kind of rules that those in authority may devise. We could, of course, enact a thoroughly philanthropic tenement house law that would prohibit the erection of buildings that were not fireproof and were not provided with ample airy halls, sunlighted corridors, salubrious back yards, the highest sanitary equipments, and so on. All these domestic beatitudes are obtainable. But who, erecting tenement houses for profit, will provide them? They wouldn't pay. Tenants could not afford the rents necessitated thereby. The reason why we see to-day so many poor buildings crowded while better buildings are only partly occupied is because it costs too much to live in the better planned and equipped edifices. These poorer buildings can be eradicated by law, but what then are the tenants to do? Landlords will not turn philanthropists and forego legitimate profits to benefit the workingman who can't afford to pay for the necessities or luxuries which somebody insists upon his having. The programme of the Tenement House Committee amounts to this: You poor people must pay higher rents. But we can't. Well, then, say the T. H. C., we will force owners to give you more for your money. But, obviously, that can't be done, and so the committee closes its eyes to the real problem and goes blindly ahead to amend the laws according to the dictates of good feeling instead of by the guidance of common sense.

VALUE OF DOCK PROPERTY.

Recently the Sinking Fund Commission decided that the Dock Board should acquire by condemnation, instead of by contract as had previously been arranged, certain dock property on South street, between Pike and Rutgers streets. This determination was brought about by the following report on the contract made by Engineer McLean:

The Department of Docks and Ferries, in communication of February 15, 1899, to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, transmits "form of agreement executed by the Board of Docks and the New York Floating Dry Dock Company, for the purchase of 443 feet 6 inches of the easterly side of South street, between Pike and Rutgers streets, East River, for the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, in accordance with the resolution adopted by the Board of Docks, January 27, 1899." This resolution, as given in the form of agreement, describes the property to be purchased as follows: "All that bulkhead on the easterly side of South street, beginning at a point 52 feet 11 inches north of Pike street (produced), and running thence northerly 443 feet 6 inches to Rutgers street (produced); together with all right, title and interest not now owned by the City of New York, in and to the wharfage rights, terms, easements and privileges appurtenant to the pier between Pike and Rutgers streets, known as Pier, old 42, East River." The price named in this agreement is $375,000. The property to be purchased consists of: 1st, The bulkhead rights and privileges of 44.36 linear feet of bulkhead; 2d, eight-ninths of the pier, old 42. The acquisition of this property becomes necessary in order to carry out the system of improvements in this locality, which has been sanctioned by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. Pier, old 42, which is described by the Secretary "is in a very dilapidated condition, unfitted for traffic by trucks, and has been occupied on both sides for many years past by floating dry docks." It has yielded the city, for its undivided one-ninth part, during the last three years, $250 per annum. The object of the purchase of the eight-ninths parts belonging to the New York Floating Dry Dock Company, is to remove it and make way for other structures.

The whole property covered by the agreement is valued on the tax books at $63,200. The purchase price of the agreement being	$375,000.00 is 5.93 times this tax valuation.
The tax valuation of eight-ninths of the pier and 40 feet 2 inches of bulkhead behind it is.....	29,700.00
If we assume the value of $200 per linear foot for the bulkhead, the total for 404 linear feet would be.....	80,800.00
Leaving for the value of eight-ninths of the pier, and bulkhead back of it.....	294,200.00
And the total value of the same would be.....	330,975.00

From my examination I am convinced that the price offered is largely in excess of the value of the property. While I believe it is good policy for the city to acquire, by open purchase, any water-front property necessary to the development of the system adopted by the Department of Docks and Ferries, when it can be obtained at reasonable rates, I think that, when, as in this case, the amount is large, and the factors of calculation indefinite, condemnation proceedings should be instituted, in which all parties interested may be heard and a fair award be made by disinterested commissioners acting under oath. Any excessive price paid for this property would tend to establish an excessive rate for any similar property that might be desired along this river front, and, therefore, this price should be deliberately and fairly fixed and settled by competent authority.

A BEGINNING.

Rapid Transit on the Manhattan Elevated has made a beginning which is worthy of note, even if it is small. On the east side line a train is being run that makes the distance between Hanover Square and Willis avenue in twenty-two minutes. It starts from South Ferry and makes only two stops—at Hanover Square and 34th street. It accommodates returning Wall street men, leaving Hanover Square on Saturday at 12.20 p. m., and other week days at 3.20.

AN ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF BUILDING DISCOVERED AT LAST.

It is not often that an important fire passes unnoticed in New York City. It has just happened.

Usually a fire makes a stir. The commotion and big head lines that accompanied the burning of the Windsor Hotel, the Andrews residence and the Vanderbilt country seat are still fresh in everybody's memory. The sensational aspect of these conflagrations lay, of course, in the fact that the buildings were so speedily destroyed, attended by loss of life. As every fire teaches something, the lesson which was inculcated thereby was that all buildings nowadays should be constructed in a thoroughly fireproof manner.

The recent unheralded fire to which we referred at the outset, was important in the reverse way. Curiously, however, it taught exactly the same lesson—only it was presented from the negative point of view. Let us see what occurred.

Last Sunday morning a fire was discovered in the basement of the Commercial Cable Building on Broad street. It occurred in a very dangerous position—in a room devoted to the storage of papers, telegraph blanks and other similar combustible material. The conditions were exactly of the sort, which, on more than one occasion, have developed serious fires. And, no doubt, a serious fire would have resulted here but for the fact that the Commercial Cable Building is one of the two or three buildings in this city wherein the principle of fireproof construction has been carried out scientifically in every particular. We are not referring now, merely to the use of steel and terra cotta in suitable positions. Strictly, modern fireproofing means much more than that. We refer also to every stick of wood in the building, for in this mammoth structure every door and window casing, every particle of trim, was rendered absolutely incombustible by the Electric Fireproofing process.

The result was that Sunday morning's fire, which would have been a serious matter in almost any other building in the city, was a harmless incident. Some of the contents of the room was destroyed. A closet of ordinary wood was completely burnt, but the flames spent themselves without any appreciable injury upon the incombustible woodwork of the room.

Architects, builders, and those who are experts in fire matters will recognize how dangerous a position the basement of a building is for a fire of this kind and how easily on a Sunday morning it could spread under ordinary circumstances along the trim, until its presence was discovered—by evidences of a big conflagration.

Surely, if ever there was a practical example this is one of the value of fireproof wood treated by the Electric Fireproofing process. It is true the value of the Electric non-inflammable wood has, over and over again, been demonstrated by experimental tests of the severest kind. It has been demonstrated so completely to the satisfaction of the United States, the British and other governments, that they have adopted it unconditionally in the construction of their warships. But here, in the case of the fire in the Commercial Cable Building, we have an accidental every-day test, sufficient to satisfy these people who like to see things proved in a "practical" fashion.

The result was a success, even more complete than anything that has been arrived at experimentally. The big building was saved. The actual loss was confined to a few dollars. The wisdom of the architects and owners in using non-flammable wood was justified in an extraordinary degree, and one can imagine how thoroughly satisfied in the future the tenants of the Commercial Cable Building must be regarding the safety of their lives and property.

It is for these reasons that we refer to this fire as an important one. It possessed no sensational features, threw no lurid light like the Windsor Hotel and the Andrews fires over the entire city, but it teaches the same facts and points to the same lesson—that wood may be made fireproof, and if treated by the Electric Fireproofing process it is absolutely incombustible.

ADDITIONS TO THE BUDGET.

The Comptroller has reported to the Municipal Assembly the amount of bonds issued for temporary improvements in 1898 and not provided for in the budget, which make a total of $7,175,850.88. The Comptroller distributes this amount among the several boroughs, as they would have been if included in the budget of the several boroughs, as shown in the following figures:

Borough.	Assessed valuation.	Proportion of budget.	Amounts available.	Deficiency apportioned.
Manhattan and the Bronx	$2,168,635,856.00	$58,378,032.91	$52,397,763.61	$5,980,269 30
Brooklyn	602,828,563 00	16,227,687.83	16,095,057.84	132,629.99
Queens	80,517,005 83	2,167,456.75	1,177,364 26	990,092 49
Richmond	26,000,260.00	699,907.28	627,048.18	72,859.10
Total	$2,877,981,684.83	$77,473,084.77	$70,297,233.89	$7,175,850.88

In addition to this he finds that the county charges of each county included in the boundaries of the city, and which go to swell the budget for the coming year, to be the following; New York, $6,961,101.09; Kings, $2,326,097.88; Queens, $403,806.14; Richmond, $118,283.73. The gross budget adopted last October amounted to $93,520,082. Concerning the receipts of the general fund for the redemption of taxation the Comptroller makes the following estimate: Credit balance on Jan. 1, 1899, $1,601,504.69; estimated revenues of the general fund, 1899, $2,467,900; total, $4,069,404.69. To this must be added the estimated surplus transferred by the Board of Estimate from moneys received from the State Excise Department, $3,600,000, and the unexpended balances of appropriations of 1898 and previous years, amounting to $1,356,786.57. This gives a grand total of $9,026,191.26, which will be deducted from the amount of taxes to be levied. Besides this there are other revenues which are in suspense awaiting determination by the Corporation Counsel as to whether they should be paid into the sinking fund or the general fund. The deductions named being made there would remain $84,493,891 to be raised by taxation on the city at large and, additional for equalization and county charges, $12,941,371 upon Manhattan and the Bronx, $2,458,727 upon Brooklyn, $1,393,898 upon Queens, and $191,142 upon Richmond. Regarding the methods of raising the amounts the Corporation Counsel states in an opinion reported this week:

You will observe that by the provisions of this section the Municipal Assembly is invested with full power to make such equalization and adjustment, by any procedure that it may deem most provident and fitted for the ends in view. I call your attention to this provision, because I do not feel called upon to advise you whether, as suggested in your letter of this day, the Municipal Assembly is required to fix one rate of taxation for each borough, or fix one rate of taxation for the whole of the Greater New York, with supplementary rates for purposes of equalization and adjustment for the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens, and Richmond, or proceed by any other particular method.

As stated last week, it is impossible to calculate the tax rate until the revised real estate and the personal estate valuations are reported to the Municipal Assembly next month.

THE MARKET FOR BUILDING MATERIALS.

From an economic point of view, the primary necessities of civilized man are food, clothing, and shelter.

The production and distribution of these three necessities constitute the bulk of the World's business.

The dealer in either food or clothing sells year after year, to parties whose addresses and requirements remain practically the same.

The dealer in building materials (as well as the architect and artisan), on the contrary, on account of the more enduring nature of his goods, is seeking the patronage of new customers, whose addresses and requirements continually change.

The dealer in building materials, in order to discover the names and addresses of the parties requiring his goods, must therefore incur a large expenditure, which his contemporaries who deal in the other necessaries of life may save as profit.

For any single concern to obtain each day, throughout even a small territory, the names of all parties who are just in the market for its particular line of goods, would be too great an expense. But by the co-operation of several hundred firms, dealing in different kinds of building materials and supplies, the expense is divided, while the information is gathered much more completely, accurately, and promptly, than it could possibly be gathered by any single concern.

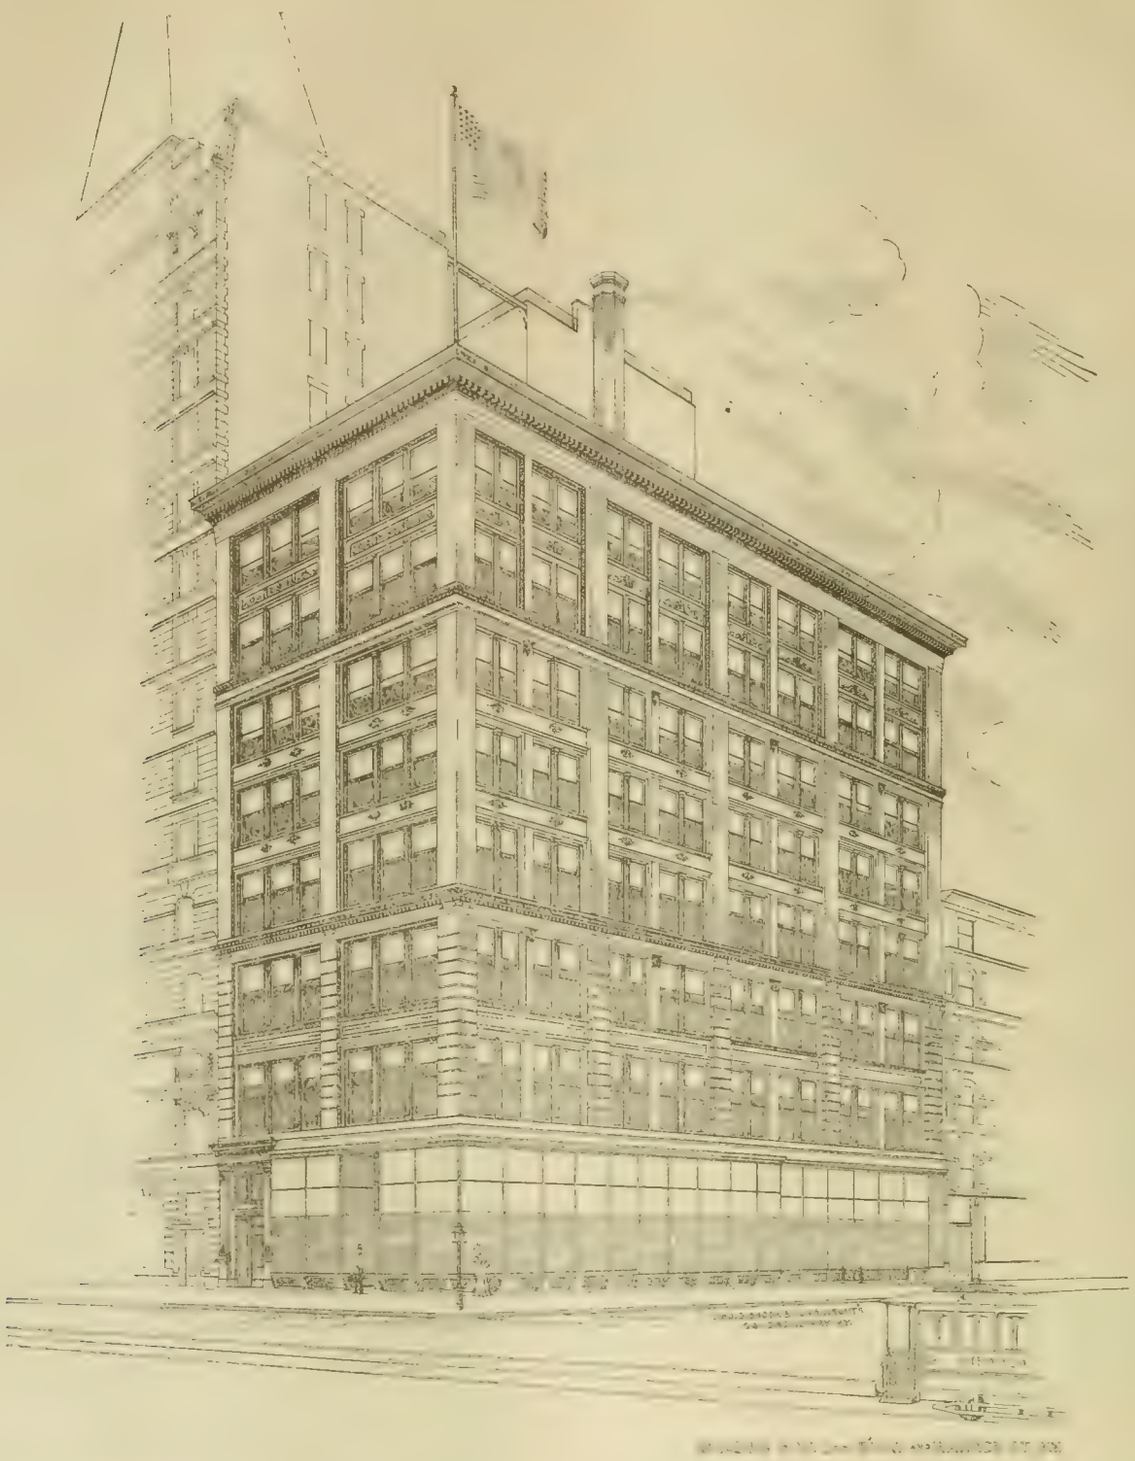
Seven years active experience in the capacity of a central agency for such co-operation, has given The F. W. Dodge Company a thorough insight into the character of the information needed by each respective line, and a knowledge of how best this can be obtained. The business of The F. W. Dodge Company is daily to furnish accurate, early, and complete reports of all building and engineering enterprises from inception to completion. This business was started at Boston, January 1st, 1892, with fifteen employees.

Its employees now number over one hundred.

During the past seven years complete reports (all of which are on file and may be quickly referred to by a card index) have been made on 112,120 different enterprises representing over 500,000 interviews with owners, architects, contractors, and others. To obtain these interviews its reporters have been obliged to travel more than 800,000 miles, averaging at present 200,000 miles each year.

During the year 1898, subscribers have received (approximately) 3,000,000 special reports, and during the past seven years more than 15,000,000 reports.

Reports are obtained only through personal interviews by a corps of over twenty men experienced in the technique of the trade—each familiar with the personnel of the locality where stationed, each giving his entire time and attention to this work.



The territory covered is that tributary to the Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets, embracing the whole of the New England states, the southern and eastern portions of New York and Pennsylvania, the state of New Jersey, and the cities of Baltimore and Washington.

THOROUGHNESS IS ASSURED.

1st. By keeping filed together all interviews on each respective project indexed by number as books in a library.

2nd. By a system of assigning and re-assigning the projects for investigation by the reporters. In this way nothing is lost sight of and a large amount of special information interesting to each particular line of trade is obtained.

3rd. By reading all the important newspapers (some three thousand in number), covering every city and town, and assigning all references to construction of any nature whatever to the respective reporters for investigation.

Each year more and more information gravitates to us directly from buyers who write desiring to obtain estimates, catalogues, etc.

In the files of this company a large mass of information valuable to subscribers has accumulated, reference to which by telephone or letter often saves a day's trip. During the past year 5,200 of such special inquiries have been answered.

The subscribers' reports are printed on slips of uniform size, each complete in itself, concisely worded, numbered, and bearing (when the want exists), special notations for the several lines of trade.

Subscribers do not purchase information from the F. W. Dodge Company, but under yearly contract, employ its services at a price varying according to the character of their business and the territory which they desire to cover.

In order not to over-run owners, architects, and others from whom information may be obtained, it has been the Company's policy to cater, not to a maximum patronage at a minimum price, but rather to the clientage of a few and representative concerns in each line, at a price commensurate with the cost of the service rendered.

The patronage of representative concerns in each important line of the building trades has been held continuously for the past seven years.

A majority of the concerns, who, after a short trial, endeavored to do without this service, have resumed its use permanently, acknowledging it to be indispensable.

Our claim to render the best service has never been disputed.

Real Estate Market.

While there have been no transactions of more than commonplace interest, the brokerage branch of the real estate market has been seasonably active. Vacant lots, including some on Central Park West, and in the upper 5th avenue district, hold a prominent place in the budget. Excepting some antiquated downtown businees properties that have passed into the hands of builders, the trading has been practically confined to cheap and medium-priced flats, tenements, and private houses. The total number of transactions reported below is 65, with considerations given in 8, and amounting to $414,000. Corresponding figures for last week were, 50, 8 and $432,500, respectively, and for the same week last year, 34, 14, and 1,001,100, respectively.

A striking illustration of the broadening demand for real estate investments was furnished this week by the partition sale for the estate of Sarah B. Cammann, conducted by William M. Ryan. An offering of 244 lots on University Heights was disposed of for a total of $240,650, or an average of $986 per lot. With the exception of 75 lots, which went to three buyers, the property brought prices that exceeded the official appraisements, and, as a consequence, a new criterion of values was established for the district. The lots that sold for less than the official appraisements were for the most part those lying across the bed of the old McComb's Dam road and over the Croton Aqueduct. The largest price paid for a single lot, namely, the southwest corner of Fordham road and Andrews avenue, was $2,300. Inside lots on the south side of Fordham avenue, between Loring place and Andrews avenue, brought from $875 to $1,375. On the same block, inside lots in Andrews avenue brought from $1,125 to $1,600; and in Loring place, from $1,025 to $1,425. Inside lots on the south side of Sedgwick avenue, south of Fordham road, commanded from $1,200 to $1,700. Opinion as to the Sedgwick avenue prices differed, but in view of the undeveloped, and consequently indefinite, character of the avenue, they were undoubtedly very fair indeed. The distinctive feature of the sale was the circumstance that, without important exceptions, the offering was taken by persons whose names were unfamiliar to the frequenters of the auction room; that is, by other than professional operators. Furthermore, apart from less than a half dozen comparatively big buyers, the purchases were distributed among a large number of persons. At most of the important auctions this season outsiders have taken a part of the offerings; but this is the first sale at which they have distinctly outnumbered and outbought the professional element. The Cammann sale serves as a fitting climax to the most active spring auction season which the real estate market has experienced since 1892. Hitherto the activity has been confined chiefly to lots lying within certain well-defined speculative building movements, and has been participated in principally by professional operators. At the present sale the general public bought freely of land dissociated from any constructional movement—bought, evidently, not because the land could be turned to immediate profit, but because it is well located, because it is bound to rise in value, and because in the meantime it is an admirable safe-deposit for surplus capital.

Graystone, the country seat of Samuel J. Tilden, at Yonkers, sold by William M. Ryan, in a partition suit brought by the New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations, was bought by Samuel Untermeyer, of Guggenheimer, Untermeyer & Marshall, for $171,500. The property was sold in two parcels, of which the first, comprising about 60 acres, between North Broadway and the Hudson River, and containing the Tilden mansion, will be retained by Mr. Untermeyer for his own use; the second parcel, of about 55 acres, on the opposite side of North Broadway, will be restricted and cut up into building sites. John T. Waring, a wealthy hat manufacturer of Yonkers, bought the tract west of North Broadway in 1870 and erected the mansion at a cost of $225,000. Mr. Tilden bought the property in 1879 for $150,000, and spent a large sum, reported to have been as high as $500,000, in the erection of additional buildings and in the purchase of the land east of North Broadway. At the present sale the initial bid for the tract west of the avenue was $50,000, the final bid being $121,000. It is a fact worth noting that the aggregate purchase price, $171,500, was $22,000 over the estimate which a leading authority on values in the vicinity backed with a wager. As recently as 1896, however, the property is said to have been appraised at $372,900. At the sale of several properties at Yonkers, by William M. Ryan, for the estate of David A. Acker, the 4-story brick store and office building, covering a plot, 56.8x50, at the northeast corner of Buena Vista avenue and Main street, was bought by A. B. Carrington, for $12,400.

The sale conducted by James L. Wells, for the United States Trust Co., as executor of the estate of Josephine L. Horton, resulted in the disposal of the property put up; 11 lots on Oneida avenue and 233d street, were not offered, being withdrawn to await the grading of the streets in front of them. Several lots on Clinton avenue and Crotona Park South which were of sufficiently irregular dimensions to create despair in the most sanguine auctioneer were taken by the local builder, Peter Handibode, who proved to be the owner of adjoining pieces. At the voluntary sale of seven vacant and four improved properties by D. Phoenix Ingraham, on Tuesday, all the parcels found takers, except one. However, Solomon Jacobs, to whom three lots on the north side of 139th street, 100 feet east of Broadway, were knocked down at $3,500 each, failed to qualify. The sales mentioned in the foregoing were supported by a schedule of voluntary and legal offerings unusually large for this time of year, and a reasonably large proportion of which was advantageously disposed of. The week, in short, has developed a distinctly more buoyant tone in the auction market.

Peter F. Meyer will conduct another important lot sale on Monday next, when he will offer 133 lots, desirably located on what is known as Van Cortlandt Heights, in the 24th Ward of this city. Other particulars will be found on another page. The sale is by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure. Davies, Stone & Auerbach, No. 32 Nassau street, and the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway, will furnish book-maps and particulars on application.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the two dwellings, Nos. 124 and 126 West 47th street, between Broadway and 6th avenue, at auction, on Wednesday next. Particulars are to be found on another page. The auctioneers' address is Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

William M. Ryan has for Wednesday next, 14th inst., the partition sale of 90 acres of land, just north of the city line in Yonkers, fronting on McLean, Kimball and Jerome avenues, macadamized roads with water and gas laid on. The property lies high, and commands magnificent views. It appears to be very suitable for division and development in a substantial way. Trolleys and leading railroads supply transit facilities. Investors in this class of property should consult the advertisement of the sale in our business pages, and the autioneer, at No. 149 Broadway.

D. Phoenix Ingraham announces in our business pages the auction sale of 18 vacant lots on Morningside and West Amsterdam avenues, and West 118th street (Morningside Heights). Lots in this section have been in increasing demand for building purposes ever since the erection of the great semi-public buildings there gave it such high tone and character. The sale is by order of the Central National Bank and liberal terms are offered to buyers. Maps, etc., are to be had at the office of the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway. The sale will take place on Thursday, 15th inst.

J. B. Ketcham, No. 58 West 125th street, offers the northwest corner of Lenox avenue and 130th street, 47x90, to close an estate.

Brooklyn.

The week in Brooklyn realty has been an average one for this period of the year. The intense heat has interfered with energetic work on the part of brokers, and the news of the week represents the result of more distant efforts rather than those of the past few days. A number of small transaction are reported, chiefly trades. Often the market may be in a very active state when the published reports are most meagre. There is a hopeful tone in realty circles which argues well for more or less activity during the approaching summer.

The following are the comparative tables for the Brooklyn Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1899 and 1898 given:

The plan to turn Coney Island into a public park seems to increase in popular favor. A circular, signed by the leading clergymen of Manhattan and Brooklyn, has been sent to all the ministers of these two boroughs, suggesting that the matter be called to the attention of the congregations at one of the services held to-morrow. A map of the proposed park is now being prepared under the direction of Chief Engineer Risse, of the Topographical Bureau, which will be ready for submission to the Board of Public Improvement by Wednesday of next week. If the Board inclines to favor the plan a public hearing will be held, the date of which must be advertised for ten days. After being adopted at this hearing the plan must also be adopted by the Municipal Assembly before the Board of Estimate are authorized to begin condemnation proceedings. These various steps will consume considerable time. Meanwhile the fire-destroyed section may be largely rebuilt.

The proposal to extend the fire limits has aroused considerable opposition in the outlying wards, particularly in Flatbush, the section which would be chiefly affected by any such change. The buildings in Flatbush are largely frame, and plans for the erection of similar buildings are already drawn up. It would seriously damage the operators in building lot property were any such rule to be enforced. In the eyes of real estate men of this section the extension of the fire limits is rendered unnecessary from the fact that most of the lots are restricted in such a way as to insure a considerable space between each house. As a result of the agitation which the threatened change has occasioned a meeting is to be held to-night in the office of the Flatbush Water Company, at which representatives of the Commission on New Building Code will be present to hear the arguments against the extension. Edward M. Grout, President of the Borough of Brooklyn, has written a letter to Mr. Wm. J. Fryer, forwarding the following resolution passed by the Local Board of the Eighth District: "Resolved, That the Local Board of the Eighth District, Borough of Brooklyn, hereby expresses its belief that it is not for the public interest that the fire limits be extended in the Twenty-ninth and Thirty-second Wards of the Borough of Brooklyn, as proposed before the Building Code Commission, and requests such Commission to have a public hearing thereon in this Borough before taking action."

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Henry Herrman of Adler & Herrman sailed this week for an extended tour through Europe.

H. H. Dreyer, sold to Diedrich Blendermann, the 5-sty flat, 25x80x100, No. 1951 Amsterdam av.

Henry Waters and family have left the city for their cottage at Saratoga Springs, to be gone until October.

W. P. Mangam, the well-known Harlem real estate broker, is stopping for the month of June at Far Rockaway, L. I.

Elisha Sniffen, of Foley & Sniffen, has been elected a member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers.

Allen W. Smith, agent and broker, of No. 252 West 14th street, has removed his office temporarily to No. 244 West 14th street.

The Municipal Assembly has directed that a public hearing be given on 30th inst. on the several applications for extending the street railway systems to the city limits.

There is to be an immediate tenement house inspection, President Murphy having ordered Dr. Betts to have his entire staff of inspectors ready this morning for an inspection of those on the East Side.

Jacob Hirsh is at his cottage at Fleischman's in the Catskills, as is also S. Gutwillig. Alois Gutwillig is at Arverne for the summer. Alfred Gutwillig is spending the summer at Long Branch. Abraham Boehm, of Boehm & Coon, is summering at Portchester. Louis Coon, of the same firm, is at Long Branch for the summer.

The School Board for the Borough of Manhattan and the Bronx have determined to erect the new Commercial High School on four lots on 66th street, between the Boulevard and Amsterdam avenue. The city owns eight lots there, but as the new high school is regarded as somewhat of an experiment it was decided to use only four of these for the building. On the other four a grammar school will be built which can be readily converted into an addition to the high school.

Nothing better illustrates the improved condition of real estate in general than the gradual filling up with tenants of vacant stores on 3d avenue. In October, 1898, there were 157 inside stores and 21 corners to let from 6th to 129th street. A count made this week reveals only 98 inside and 12 corner stores unoccupied. This is, indeed, a remarkable decrease, so pronounced as to indicate that a period has been put to the retrogression in values which began some years ago. The substitution of the trolley for the cable nearly completed in the avenue can hardly be credited with being a principal, or even an important factor, in bringing about this reduction in store vacancies, in view of the comparatively small decrease in 2d avenue, between 59th and 129th streets, less than half a dozen stores since November.

Among the clever novelties of auction advertising must be included the card issued by D. Phoenix Ingraham, in connection with his sale of Morningside Heights' lots on Thursday next. This is in form of a large postal card, 7x11 inches, on one side of which is the blank for the address of the party to whom it is sent, and on the other the advertisement of the auctioneer and the sale, conspicuously illustrated by a diagram in colors showing the property to be sold, and adjacent improvements. The whole is a neat and effective announcement. It is long since any lots on Morningside Heights have been offered at public sale, and the results of this sale will be looked forward to with interest. It is sanguinely contemplated by principals.

At the meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, on Thursday, Henry S. Kearny, Commissioner of the Department of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies, made requisition for an appropriation of $300,000 to buy land for free baths, namely: $100,000 for the borough of Manhattan, $100,000 for Brooklyn, $50,000 for the Bronx, $30,000 for Queens, and $20,000 for Richmond. The requisition was referred to the Comptroller for examination and report. The following requisitions from the Board of Education were granted: Site for a school, 87th street, between Park and Lexington avenues, $49,792.01; heating and ventilating School No. 46, Manhattan Borough, $21,847.00; heating and ventilating Schools Nos. 5 and 70, Brooklyn Borough, $31,823.00; site for a high school, 114th street, between 7th and 8th avenues, $188,436.23. Commissioner McCartney, of the Department of Street Cleaning, called for an appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a dump. The requisition was referred to the Comptroller.

The request of the Fire Department for the issue of bonds to the amount of $300,000 for new sites and buildings is now before the Municipal Assembly. The details are the following: New sites in vicinity of 82d street and Amsterdam avenue, $40,000; in vicinity of 104th street and Amsterdam avenue, $25,000; in vicinity of 190th street and 11th avenue, $13,000; in vicinity of Aqueduct avenue and Hampden street, $4,000; in vicinity of Burnside avenue and the Concourse, Mount Hope, $7,000; in vicinity of Intervale avenue and 169th street, $4,000; in vicinity of Southern Boulevard and Anthony avenue, Bedford Park, $4,000; in Williamsbridge, $2,000; in Eastchester, $1,000; in Westchester, $1,000; in Wakefield, $2,000. For surveys, $2,000; for placing fire-alarm conduits for telegraph system underground, $25,000; total, $130,000. New Buildings: At Nos. 115 and 117 West 33d street, $50,000; north side of 77th street, between Amsterdam avenue and Broadway, $35,000; Vanderbilt avenue and 159th street (Bronx), $30,000; Prospect avenue and Kelly street (Bronx), $25,000; at Burnside avenue and the Concourse, Mount Hope (Bronx), $15,000; at Intervale avenue and 169th street (Bronx), $15,000; total, $170,000. The city owns the sites at Vanderbilt avenue and 159th street, and Prospect avenue and Kelly street. The site at Nos. 115 and 117 West 33d street is being acquired under condemnation proceedings, and will be confirmed soon. The 77th street site is under consideration. The sites in the vicinity of Burnside avenue and the Concourse, and in the vicinity of Intervale avenue and 169th street, are asked for in this requisition.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

Good demand with limited supply continue to be the chief characteristics of the building material market. The arrivals of North River brick were considerably larger than last week, 79 barges as against 60, and while they were absorbed by the demand prices felt the increase in the supply, the quotation being $5.75 to $6.25, which is a moderate decline from the figures last given in these columns. Lime continues to be scarce. In cements, Rosendale holds its advance to 90c. for carload lots, and $1.00 for smaller quantities; American Portland is $2.00@2.10 with no stock in sight. Contrary to expectation, there was no advance in cut nails, but one is on the cards in consequence of the rise in the price of the raw materials; wire nails advanced last week, and our latest quotations for both wire and cut nails still stand good. In naval stores, there was a substantial decline in spirits from 43½c. to 38½c. for machines, and from 43c. to 38c. for Southerns. In other lines no changes have been reported. Lumber interests are discussing the important question whether prices having reached the maximum of '92, the top has not been reached. In view of the scarcity of many favorite woods and the necessity of looking around for substitutes, it is not easy to answer this question affirmatively.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES

Arnold W. Brunner, No. 36 Union square, is the successful competitor for the Mt. Sinai Hospital plans, 5th avenue, 100th to 101st streets.

William J. Daly, inspector of masonry in the Department of Buildings, has been transferred from the Bronx to Manhattan, and Francis E. Clarke, same, from Manhattan to the Bronx.

Frank C. Chaffee, the well-known awning man of Brooklyn, announces his removal from No. 29 to 120 Flatbush avenue, where he has better facilities for meeting the demands of his increasing trade.

Removals noted this week: F. H. Wakeham to the St. James Building, No. 1133 Broadway; The Electric Brick, Terra Cotta & Tile Co., to No. 241 Broadway; telephone call, 5389 Cortlandt; P. H. Lynch, to No. 1666 Amsterdam av, corner of 143d st.

John P. Leo, President of the Builders' League, writes us as follows: "I notice an error in your report of the result of the annual election of officers of our League Tuesday evening last. Our very efficient secretary for the past year has been Mr. W. O. Fredenburg, and he has been re-elected for the present year."

It is learned that the competitive plans submitted by Carrere & Hastings, No. 28 East 41st street, have been selected for the church edifice to be erected on the north corner of Central Park West and 96th street. For the residence to be built by James Stillman, president of the National City Bank, on the north corner of 5th avenue and 72d street, competitive plans have also been drawn by several leading architects, although no selection has probably yet been made.

The Empire Ventilator, manufactured by Hermann Doerge, of No. 556 11th avenue, near 42d street, is well known as a ventilator that ventilates. The claim that it is a sure cure for smoky and vaulty chimneys is known by owners, builders and architects to be well founded and from all sections of the country letters testifying to its efficiency are received. The following, from Architect and Builder H. M. Ward, of Savannah, Ga., speaks for itself: "Enclosed find check in payment of your bill for two Empire Ventilators. I desire to say that they work to perfection. I placed one on top of my kitchen flue and have not been troubled since, by the smoke, notwithstanding we have had very windy weather, and before using your ventilator, we could not cook anything if the weather was the least breezy. I hope that the ones I have may be the means of selling several for you, for I shall show them to my clients."

The stone cutters' strike will probably result shortly in a complete defeat of the originators of the trouble. About a year and a half ago the Journeymen Stone Cutters' Association went out on a sympathetic strike. The circumstances attending this action were such that the New York Stone Trade Association, consisting of employers, received the support of all the employers' associations in the building trades. Many of the members of the Journeymen Stone Cutters' Association were dissatisfied with the arbitrary manner in which strikes had been brought about by their walking delegates, and, with others, organized a new union, the Stone Cutters' Society, which signed an agreement with the Stone Trade Association, similar to that in force between the Mason Builders and their men. The Stone Trade Association comprised all but four yards in the greater city. In these four yards the few remaining members of the defeated union were enabled to find employment, and thus to keep up their organization, which presently joined the Building Trades' Council, then beginning to supplant the Board of Walking Delegates in power. Not long since the old union determined to regain its prestige by fighting, with the aid of the Building Trades' Council, the employers connected with the Stone Trade Association one by one, D. G. Morrison, of Long Island City, was selected as the first victim. Sympathetic strikes were ordered on several buildings in Manhattan, to which he was furnishing stone. The idea of the strikers was that, in a busy season like the present, by limiting the strike to a few buildings, the men who went off one job could readily find work on another. Now, however, this move has been blocked, inasmuch as the new union has taken up the fight for the Stone Trade Association by ordering a stoppage of the fitting of stone on thirty-five buildings, on which the stone supplied is cut by men of the old union. This action practically throws all the old union men out of employment. As the Building Trades' Council is by no means strong enough to enforce a general sympathetic strike in their behalf, the fight seems likely to end in a speedy victory for the new union and the Stone Trade Association.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each Convenance, thus 2 : 482, denotes that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—Subscribers will find Conveyances in this list with the wrong block No. attached. The block No. we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the Mort is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block No. attached. The block No. we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

June 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8.
